Eisenhower, Macmillan Begin Talks On Berlin Issue At Camp David

SEN. ELLIOTT TALKS AT YMCA ANNUAL DINNER

Charters were given to two youth groups and State Senator Douglas H. Elliott, Chambersburg, was the principal speaker at the annual dinner meeting of the Young Men's Christian Association of Adams County Thursday evening at Trinity United Church of Christ here.

More than 60 young people, leaders and parents attended the affair with county President C. P. Keefer presiding.

Senator Elliott spoke on "Youth And Adults — Partners In Growth."

Reports On Activities

Club advisers were introduced and President Keefer presented his annual report showing Senior Hi-Y clubs are operating in Biglerville, East Berlin and Gettysburg High Schools; Senior Tri-Hi-Y clubs in Biglerville, East Berlin, Fairfield and York Springs High Schools; Junior Hi-Y clubs in East Berlin and Gettysburg, and Junior Tri-Hi-Y clubs in Biglerville, East Berlin and York Springs High Schools.

He referred briefly to the work of the county YMCA Youth Council, the Teen-Talk life problems courses that are being offered, the Community Youth Fellowship, the plans for father and son Indian Guides' units and for summer day camps. He also listed county, district and state YMCA events on the calendar for the year.

Margaret Wentz of Biglerville High School gave the report for the county Youth Council and then G. W. Lefever, Gettysburg High School principal, presented the charter for the Junior Hi-Y unit at that school to Dean Steiner and John Holoka.

New Directors Introduced

The young adult program was reviewed, by Waldo Hartman, president, and he was presented with the CYF unit charter by Richard Waybright, a member of

DISCIPLINE IS TOPIC FOR PTA

"Discipline is training to act in accordance with rules. The teacher has to decide where to draw the line between liberty and order in the classroom. Pupils expect discipline as a part of school procedure." These were some of the observations of Dr. Robert L. Bloom who participated in Thursday evening's panel discussion at the PTA meeting in Lincoln School.

Howard Shoemaker spoke as a representative of the recreation program. He told the group that the recreation program had its beginning with the idea of keeping the children off the streets. A reasonable amount of discipline has to be maintained both with group games and activities as well as with the child in his use of the swing, sliding board and see-saw. The instructor must have special understanding of special discipline problems and try to uncover the reason for non-cooperative behavior.

"We must let young people know what we expect of them and they will try to live up to our expectations," said the Rev. John S. Bishop. He recommended the reading of two books: "Understanding Your Son's Adolescence" by Dr.

Allison Services Held On Thursday

Funeral services for S. L. Allison, former Adams County prothonotary and for many years a funeral director in Fairfield and Emmitsburg, who died Monday afternoon at his home in Fairfield, were held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Wilson Funeral Home in Fairfield. The Rev. Charles Coffelt and the Rev. Otto Kroeger officiated. Interment was made in St. Mary's Cemetery at Fairfield.

The pallbearers were Walter Leister, Clarence Wilson, Robert McCullough, Jay Brown, Harry W. McGlaughlin and William Strickhouse.

EXTRA DIVIDEND

The board of directors of the First National Bank of Gettysburg has declared an extra dividend of two percent, it was announced today by President I. Z. Musselman. The dividend will be on stock of record today and will be paid on April 1.

Boy Injured By Elevator

Timothy Bollinger, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Jake) Bollinger, Gettysburg R. 3, is in a "serious but not critical" condition after having been crushed between an elevator and a floor at the Peace Light Inn Thursday evening.

The child had been attempting to use the elevator when a cable snapped and he was pinned by the elevator against a wall and floor.

His condition "improved greatly overnight" the hospital reported at 11 o'clock this morning.

The child suffered a cerebral concussion, lacerations and contusions of the scalp, a laceration of the cheek, contusions of the neck, contusions of the right side of the chest, and a deep laceration and contusions of the right thigh.

CONFIRM 171 THURSDAY AT ST. FRANCIS

Garbed in academic robes, 171 young men and women became "Soldiers of Christ" at confirmation services Thursday evening at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church.

The Most Rev. Dr. Lawrence F. Schott, auxiliary bishop of Harrisburg, administered the Sacrament of Confirmation to the group at the triennial service here. He called upon the youths to "be exemplary Christians and citizens." The boys wore red gowns, the girls white gowns with red collars and red skull caps. Each was accompanied by an adult who served as his sponsor. Each youth took a special saint's name as his confirmation name.

Class Members

Members of the Confirmation class included Charles F. Abell, James G. Adair, Joseph A. Phyllis R., and Richard M. Althoff, Kathleen L. Baird, Donald F. Baker, Judith Ann Banks, Susan J. Beacom, Roland J. Bourdeau, Regina R., Sharon L., Veronica and Wanda Marie Bowling, Charles R. ### To Confer Monday On School Changes

The property committee of the Upper Adams Joint School Board will meet Monday evening with the school district's attorney and school administrators to discuss a report received on the inspection of the school buildings in Biglerville by the Department of Labor and Industry.

The meeting will explore the question whether recommended changes can be tied in with proposed remodeling and expansion of the high school buildings. State approved room schedules were received recently for the construction but no plans have as yet been prepared.

Gridder Breaks Leg In Practice

Jack Norwood, 19, a student at Gettysburg College, was treated at the Warner Hospital for a fracture of his left leg sustained Wednesday while practicing football.

Leo Gebhart, 44, R. 5, an employee of the Kottcamp Co., was treated Thursday for the removal of a piece of slag from his left eye.

RECOMMENDS DIVORCE

The divorce of Sue Yvonne (Moul) March, of Hanover, from Robert Luther March, U. S. Army, Ft. Dix, N. J., was recommended by the master, Atty. Donald G. Oyler, in his report filed in the prothonotary's office. Indignities and cruel and barbarous treatment are alleged. The couple wed August 30, 1952, at Westminster.

ANNUAL YWCA DINNER HELD ON THURSDAY

"True greatness is found in giving loving service to others," Mrs. Henry T. Bream, executive director of the Lutheran Inner Mission of the West Pennsylvania Conference of the United Lutheran Church, said Thursday evening in a talk at the annual dinner meeting of the Gettysburg YWCA.

Eighty-five persons attended the annual affair at which Mrs. J. Clair Donley, retiring president, turned over the gavel to the new president, Mrs. Paul L. Reaser. The meeting was held in the association building on Lincoln Square.

Mrs. Fred G. Pfeffer, chairman of the Membership committee, presided during the dinner. Mrs. Reaser gave the invocation and Mrs. John R. Weaver led group singing. Mrs. A. R. Wentz conducted devotions on the theme of "The Journeys of the Israelites."

Past Presidents There

Mrs. Donley presided at the brief business meeting and presented the new president who extended greetings to the YWCA leaders and Y-Teens in attendance.

Mimeographed annual reports of officers and YWCA organizations were distributed at the dinner table. The report of the executive secretary, Mrs. Leona K. Heim, showed there were 947 meetings at the "Y" building the last year with a total attendance of 12,365. She also reported that 149 new members were added during the year and the number of electoral members was increased by 70. She listed new organizations formed in the last year and said October was the busiest month in 1958. She suggested items for board consideration in 1959 planning.

These past presidents of the local YWCA were introduced: Mrs. Guyon Buehler, Mrs. W. R. Sammel, Mrs. Blaine G. Walter, Mrs. A. R. Wentz, Mrs. W. C. Waltemyer, Mrs. R. S. Saby, Mrs. Frank Kramer and Mrs. Donley. All occupied seats at the speakers' table.

Some time ago a number of prominent Eastern Lutherans advanced a plan to merge two large Lutheran theological seminaries, including Gettysburg, first Lutheran seminary in the country.

Many are of the belief that the plan will never come to pass, that it will not jell, that the two seminaries will continue, in Philadelphia, and here.

However, this is not quite correct.

The local seminary board has been approached and the merger plan has been placed with it for consideration in May. It could come to pass that the two schools merge, thus slashing expenses considerably while continuing the same programs.

It would be a severe loss to Gettysburg should this community suddenly find this institution closed. The financial loss would be almost immeasurable.

It is to be hoped that the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological Seminary will remain here and if a merger is concluded the final choice will be Gettysburg.

FFA, YOUNG FARMERS JOIN FOR BANQUET

The Upper Adams Young Farmers joined the Upper Adams Chapter, Future Farmers of America, for the latter's 20th annual banquet Thursday evening in the Bendersville Elementary School cafeteria. It was the first time that the two groups joined for such an event.

Norman Blocher, first charter president of the FFA and now president of the Young Farmers, was toastmaster. He and Larry Daron, FFA president, extended greetings.

John W. White, vocational agriculture teacher at Biglerville High School, presented project awards to FFA members as follows: Clay Tuckey, for his sow and litter project; Grayson Taylor, beef project; Ronald Taylor, small fruits; Gerald Slaybaugh, truck crops, and Larry Daron, corn.

Cecil R. Snyder, also a vocational agriculture teacher at Biglerville, presented awards to the three FFA members who led in seed sales. Richard Cooley received an FFA jacket for having sold "between one-third and one-half of the seeds sold." Terry Sheaffer received an FFA shirt and Roger Cooley an FFA necktie. Snyder also presented degree certificates to 16 "green hands."

FFA Progress

In their remarks, Snyder and White told of the progress of the FFA program. Snyder pointed out that in Butler Twp. there are 194 farms comprising 14,233 acres, 9,710 of which are in cultivation; Menallen Twp., 182 farms with 16,693 acres, 6,100 cultivated, and Tyrone Twp., 127 farms with 12,689 acres, 8,757 cultivated.

White said that in Pennsylvania there are 1,300 Young Farmers and 12,000 students in vocational agriculture. He cited state statistics.

Local Driver In Crash At York

A rear-end accident in York about 10:45 a.m. Thursday caused an estimated $425 damage to the three cars involved, York city police reported.

The drivers were identified as Robert L. Laird, 25, Wellsville; William H. Scott Jr., 19, Gettysburg, and Earl M. Spangler, 47, York. Officers said the Laird car was halted behind a parking vehicle and the other two cars were unable to stop in time to avoid a collision.

MRS. WILSON, LITTLESTOWN, DIES THURSDAY

Mrs. Emma M. Wilson, widow of Robert H. Wilson, died Thursday evening at 9:45 o'clock at her home, 106 E. King St., Littlestown, after an illness of several months.

Mrs. Wilson was a daughter of the late Abraham G. and Elizabeth (Rebert) Keagy. Her husband was a co-founder of the Keystone Cabinet Company of Littlestown and once represented this county in the General Assembly at Harrisburg.

She was a member of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, the Starr Bible Class and the Mite Society of the Church. She was a charter member of the Woman's Community Club of Littlestown.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Mildred Creager, at home; a son, Robert A. Wilson, Rydal, near Philadelphia; two granddaughters; four great-grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Nora Creager, Hanover, and a brother, Samuel M. Keagy, Littlestown.

Funeral services Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the Little Funeral Home, Littlestown, with the Rev. Lawrence H. Roller officiating. Interment in Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Littlestown.

The family requests that flowers be omitted.

Mother, Three Children Are Rescued By Police From Young Maddened Ex-Con

By HERB LITTLE

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—A 29-year-old mother and her three children, pawns in an ex-convict's mad scheme against a former cellmate, were rescued by state police after being held captive for 20 hours.

Richard A. Payne, 23, surrendered late Thursday afternoon at a roadblock near Logan, 70 miles south of here, after firing two shots at trailing police. He had planned to use Mrs. John Baldwin and her children as a wedge to force the release of Burton Junior Post, 31, from the penitentiary so that he could kill Post.

Planned Kidnapping

Payne said he had planned the kidnapping for about two weeks but didn't select the Baldwins as his victims until he went to their home—three doors away from his house—and gained admittance on the pretext of wanting to use the telephone.

"I regret only that I was caught before I got Post," Payne said. "I was going to get his head and sort of preserve it. He's an enemy of my existence, and I hate him." He described his feeling toward Post as "hatred at first sight."

Payne gave that motive for the kidnapping in a weird note addressed to Gov. Cecil H. Underwood of West Virginia. The note threatened torture and death to

TWO MEMBERS OF NEW OXFORD SUV HONORED

Two members of Theodore Pfeiffer Camp 60, Sons of Union Veterans, New Oxford, were honored for more than a half century of membership each at a joint meeting of the camps and auxiliaries of the SUV of Gettysburg, New Oxford and York Thursday evening in the New Oxford armory.

Dr. Charles A. Higgs, Wilkes-Barre, department commander of the SUV, presented 50-year membership pins to Joseph I. Weaver, 73, treasurer of the New Oxford camp, who has been a member 50 years, and Mark Staub, 78, who had been a member of the camp for 59 years. The Pfeiffer camp was established 75 years ago at Abbottstown, and after a few months there moved to New Oxford. Staub is the first grandson of a veteran to join the Pfeiffer camp.

Dr. Higgs said: "It is an honor to pay tribute to men such as Mr. Weaver and Mr. Staub who have given a lifetime of service to the Sons of Veterans. But the best tribute we can do is to increase our membership, to keep alive and increase the organizations to which they have given so much, and proud of the fact that most of its members are young men."

Li. Col. Corvin S. Bryan, Cash-town, department membership chairman, said: "There are 20,000,000 men eligible for membership in the SUV. As a tribute to the men in blue, whose descendants we are, we should make every effort to increase our membership, particularly during the Civil War anniversary observance."

Col. C. LeRoy Stout, Reading, Scotland School chairman for the Pennsylvania SUV, reported, "A

New Oxford Firm Buys Second Plant

Acquisition of a second plant in New Oxford, more than double the size of its present manufacturing outlet in West York, will enable the Perkins Battery Co. to expand its operations in the near future, company officials announced Thursday.

The 35-year-old firm, producer of industrial truck batteries and has purchased the vacant 25,500-square-foot plant of the Cannon Shoe Co. of Baltimore. The consideration was not disclosed.

Purchase of the plant and warehouses was announced by Richard G. Perkins, president, and Frederick Perkins, secretary-treasurer, of the firm founded by their father, the late Fred C. Perkins.

The split-level plant fronts 313 feet along Golden Lane and is 200 feet deep. It is serviced by the Western Maryland Railway Co.

BAND BOOSTERS TO MEET

The Band Boosters of Gettysburg High School will meet at the school Monday evening at 8 o'clock. A special program is being arranged.

TO ADDRESS KIWANIS

The Rev. W. W. Woods, Seven Stars, will speak on vocational guidance at the meeting Monday at 6:30 p.m. of the Gettysburg Kiwanis Club in Bankert's Restaurant, Littlestown Pike.

Two World Leaders Fly To Mountain Retreat Near Thurmont This Afternoon

Scribes From Many Nations Are Reporting Big Conference

Most of the top "brass" in the field of reporting from many nations are in Gettysburg for the weekend to report on the conference between President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan, and their aides, on the Russian-created Berlin "situation." The two leaders arrived at Camp David by helicopter early this afternoon after a brief conference with Secretary of State John Foster Dulles at Walter Reed Hospital.

Local observers are speculating on whether they will get a chance to see the prime minister and the President before they return to Washington Sunday evening or Monday morning.

Some are of the belief, hopeful perhaps, that the two leaders will attend church in Gettysburg Sunday morning and perhaps visit the Eisenhower farm and the Battlefield before they "break camp."

The setting for the Eisenhower-Macmillan talks is Aspen Lodge at Camp David. The camp is on the highest point of a wooded ridge of the Catoctin Mountains, 1822 feet above sea level, near Thurmont, Md.

What the two world leaders say and do there will be recorded directly by more than a hundred photo and newsmen almost entirely through the eyes and ears of presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty and his British opposite, Peter Hope.

Press headquarters have been set up in the Hotel Gettysburg pressroom.

SAYS HAMMER HAD NO EFFECT ON KIDNAPER

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP) — Elma Baldwin, scared but spunky, hit her ex-convict captor on the head twice with a hammer in an effort to free herself and her three children.

The story of the six hours she and her children were forced to spend with their kidnaper, Richard Arlen Payne, was related Thursday night by Mrs. Baldwin via telephone to reporter Don Marsh of the Charleston Gazette.

Payne was captured at a state police roadblock here.

"I knew if I was going to do anything," said Mrs. Baldwin, "I'd better do it before we left South Charleston."

Tells Story
She told this story:

I was pretty scared. He'd threatened to torture and kill the children. I didn't know what was going to happen. We stopped at a service station in Spring Hill.

There was a hammer under the front seat and I whispered to my oldest boy to hand it to me when I made a signal.

I motioned with my hand and the boy gave me the hammer. We were stopped at the service station then, getting gas, but the attendant wasn't paying any attention to us.

Hard Headed
I hit him with a hammer, hard, in the back of the head. Then I hit him another lick in the forehead.

It made a deep cut in his head and it bled a lot.

It didn't seem to make him too mad. He took the hammer away from me and said I couldn't hurt him. He said he'd been hit in the head so much it didn't make any difference.

Then we drove out on Davis Creek, past Ruth and on into Lincoln County. I got lost after that. I had no idea where we were.

I kept trying to talk to him. I wanted him to take his mind off the children.

We drove around over back roads all night. I was afraid to go to sleep. He didn't sleep either.

Actually, he was real nice to us.

ANNUAL YWCA

she introduced the topic by discussing various definitions of "neighbor."

She described her work in the Lutheran Inner Mission program as follows: "The Lutheran Inner Mission is concerned with the whole scope of needs with which families and individuals are beset — beginning with the infant (even) planning for the unborn child, young children in broken homes and adolescents showing delinquency tendencies, young married couples and older couples, too, in marital conflict, handicapped children and adults and problems of the aging, a ministry to people in homes, hospitals, and institutions, and a ministry to the handicapped such as that for the deaf."

She described the five-county step for service in the conference boundaries that include 81 congregations. "This is still a pioneering program in a large sense and while we are already coordinating our work with other agencies, we are concerned about services that are not being provided such as counseling in marital situations, providing house-keeping service in emergencies and especially to the aged person who would like to remain in his or her own home but is no longer able to do this without help from relatives or neighbors. . . . We have often found that the center of the problems brought to us is the need for strengthening of the relationship between the family and the church and the help of lay assistants has been found best in such situations."

Lincoln Anniversary Will Be Observed

Plans for a program marking the anniversary of the death of Abraham Lincoln to be held at the Hanover Junction by the allied orders of the Grand Army of the Republic of Gettysburg were outlined today by Mrs. S. E. Kapp, department vice president of the Daughters of Union Veterans.

The program will be held Sunday afternoon, April 19, at 2:30 o'clock. The anniversary date is April 14.

Mrs. Kapp will serve as master of ceremonies for the program at the marker at Hanover Junction noting the stop made by President Lincoln there.

Mrs. Sara Keefe, president of the local auxiliary of the SUV, will deliver Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and Mrs. Maybelle McKenrick, president of the Ladies of the GAR, will lead the salute to the flag. Mrs. Amanda Walker, president of the Daughters of Union Veterans of Gettysburg, will place a wreath. A representative of the Gettysburg Camp of the SUV will narrate details of the assassination of President Lincoln.

Girls Trip, Rob Woman Of Purse

WASHINGTON (AP)—The wife of Pulitzer Prize-winning author Edgar Ansel Mowrer was thrown to the ground Thursday by three teen-age girls and robbed of her purse containing $17.

Mrs. Mowrer, who is 67 and also a writer, suffered a broken nose and a sprained wrist. She was released after treatment at a hospital.

Mrs. Mowrer said she was walking along a bridge path in the rear of the Shoreham Hotel when she was accosted by three Negro girls. She said the girls shoved and tripped her and she sprawled headlong. They fled after grabbing her purse.

Mowrer won the Pulitzer Prize for foreign reporting in 1932. He is correspondent for the Chicago Daily News.

EX-FBI AGENT IS FINED $500 BY U. S. JUDGE

WASHINGTON (AP)—John Joseph Frank, Washington attorney and former FBI agent, was fined $500 today for acting as an agent for Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo and the Dominican Republic without registering with the Justice Department.

U.S. Dist. Judge Luther W. Youngdahl fined Frank $500 on each of two counts in the indictment, but suspended one fine.

Judge Youngdahl said he was taking into account that Frank now has registered as an agent of a foreign principal as well as the fact he made no apparent effort to hide his activities.

Frank, 41, is a native of New Britain, Conn. He withdrew a plea of innocence last week and threw himself upon the mercy of the court.

Had Been Indicted
Frank was indicted by a grand jury delving into the disappearance of Jesus Maria de Galindez, Columbia University lecturer, and Gerald L. Murphy, an American pilot.

Galindez, 43, a bitter critic of Dominican strong man Trujillo, disappeared in March 1956 shortly after leaving a class at Columbia. Murphy, 23, a pilot for the Dominican government airline, vanished in Ciudad Trujillo, the Dominican capital, the following December.

Some reports said Murphy had boasted of knowledge about the circumstances of Galindez' disappearance.

The Air Force said Moore started the pumps on the chamber after all other workers had left about 6 p.m., then entered the chamber. His body was found the next morning. The indicated altitude registered the maximum of 70,000 feet of which the chamber was capable.

His assignment included work in and around the chamber, the Air Force said, adding that he was considered a model airman.

Moore, who attended the University of Arizona during off-duty time, is survived by his mother, Mrs. C. W. Moore, Anniston, Ala.

GUTERMA ONCE ENTERED U. S. ILLEGALLY

NEW YORK (AP) — Alexander L. Guterma, whose international financial empire is under investigation, once entered United States territory illegally.

His counsel, Richard H. Wells, said: "He concedes that when he was under the adventurous turn of mind of a 20-year-old youngster, he did come from Tientsin, China, to Hawaii without knowledge of such things as immigration laws."

"After learning that under our laws he was here illegally, he voluntarily returned" to the Far East," Wells said.

Ordered Deported
Immigration Service records disclosed that Guterma, who says he was born in Siberia in 1915, was ordered deported from Hawaii Dec. 4, 1935. He had been accused of entering U.S. territory illegally on the previous July 22.

The records show that Guterma received permission to leave voluntarily, and left Honolulu without notice by stowing away on a China-bound liner Jan. 11, 1936.

Guterma's U.S. citizenship status is currently under investigation by the Immigration and Naturalization Service. He was naturalized Nov. 9, 1956, after entering the United States under non-quota status Aug. 5, 1950, as the husband of an American citizen.

Guterma is under bail on charges of securities fraud. He also is fighting a mass of litigation growing out of his financial dealings.

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower was experiencing a series of budgetary ups and downs on Capitol Hill today, with more bumps in the immediate offing.

In separate actions, the Senate and the House Thursday further upset the President's program for a balanced budget for the fiscal year starting next July 1.

The House, by roll-call vote of 262-134, passed a 297-million-dollar four-year airport aid program which exceeded the President's recommendations by 97 millions.

Concurrently, the Senate voted to charge against the new budget $1,375,000,000 of new United States subscriptions to the International Monetary Fund. The President had counted on charging this item against this year's budget, although

Dr. Thompson To Conduct Clinics

Dr. Forbes H. Burgess, deputy state health officer of the Frederick County health department, announced this week the appointment of Dr. Edward A. Thompson, Taneytown, to conduct the maternal-child hygiene clinic which is held in Emmitsburg twice monthly and also the polio clinic which is held monthly.

Dr. Thompson replaces Dr. C. R. Williams, Emmitsburg, whose resignation became effective March 1.

In a personal letter to Dr. Williams, the county health department head expressed gratitude for services rendered the community during the past several years as clinician. In his letter, Dr. Burgess said: "I wish to take this opportunity to express officially the sincere appreciation of this department, as well as the thanks of Miss Bussard, the public health nurse, and myself, for the splendid service you rendered to your community in conducting these clinics. I personally appreciate your willingness to give so freely of your time and professional skill in these two vital clinic programs."

The clinics are held in the basement of the American Legion Home, N. Seton Ave. The regular clinic days are the second and fourth Thursdays of each month and polio clinic is held the third Thursday of each month. Parents are urged to take advantage of this service, especially the polio clinic, to enable their children to receive the necessary shots guarding against polio.

the children if Payne's demand for Post's release was not met.

"Horrible Experience"

Payne left the note in the Baldwin home when he drove off in the family car with Mrs. Baldwin and Susan, 5; Danny, 7, and Kenneth, 10. The husband and father, John H. Baldwin, 30, was left behind, tied and gagged.

Despite the threats in his macabre note, Payne did not harm his captives. "I couldn't have killed them after I got to know them," he said later.

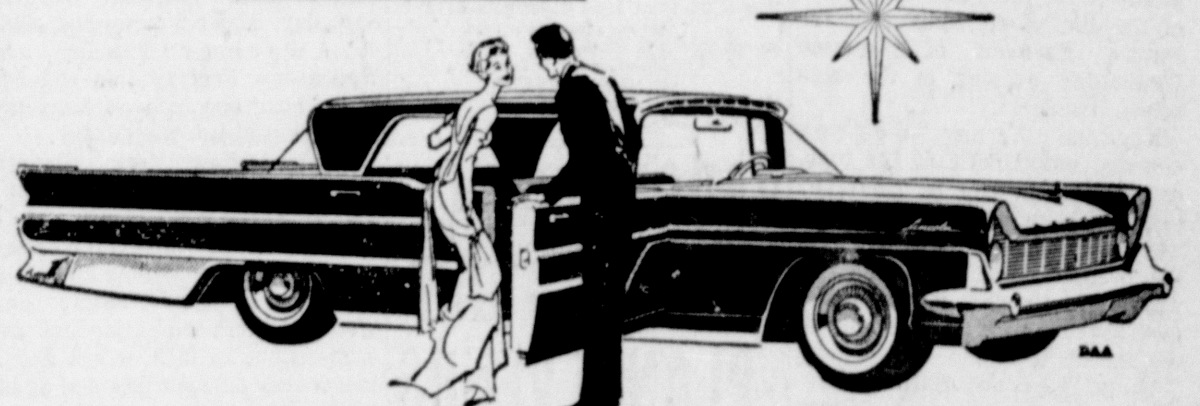

"It was the horrible experience I ever had," Mrs. Baldwin said. "I guess it could have been worse though. After all, he was nice to all of us and never tried to hurt us."

Newman Services Are Held Today

Funeral services for Orville H. Newman, 45, husband of Mrs. Anna Weikert Newman, Littlestown R. 2, who died on Tuesday morning in the University Hospital, Baltimore, were conducted this afternoon at 2 o'clock from Little's Funeral Home, Littlestown. The Rev. John W. Fry, supply pastor of Grace Lutheran Church, Two Taverns, officiated, assisted by the Rev. H. W. Sternat, Biglerville. Interment was in Mt. Carmel Cemetery, Littlestown. Serving as pallbearers were Irvin Conover, Willis Conover, Charles Slusser, Herbert Wolfe, Carl Zeigler and Kenneth W. Olinger.

WILL NOT TALK
LEAGUE HOPES

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAKE LAND, Fla. (AP) — Detroit Tiger Manager Bill Norman is making sure he's not going to make the same mistake his predecessor, Jack Tighe, made last year.

A year ago at this time, Tighe, breathing optimism, proclaimed the Tigers 50 per cent improved and predicted they would catch the Yankees. Less than three months later, the Tigers were in last place and Tighe was replaced by Norman.

If Norman has caught the flag fever this year, there are no symptoms. On the contrary, he becomes slightly annoyed whenever the word pennant is mentioned in connection with his club.

"We improved," Norman said. "The Tigers finished fifth last year, only four games out of seventh. You can't talk about being a contender until you've become a solid first division club."

"Sure, we improved," Norman added, "and I am optimistic about finishing in the first division. But we've got our work cut out for us. Don't forget, the other clubs have improved, too."

The trade with Cleveland that brought relief pitchers Ray Narleski and Don Mossi will strengthen the staff, Norman said, "and the trade with Washington that landed third baseman Eddie Yost and shortstop Rocky Bridges will help the club defensively."

Has Good Hurlers
Norman's pride and joy is his pitching, led by starters Jim Bunning, Frank Lary, Paul Foytack and Billy Hoelt. Herm Wehmeier and George Sussie will be spot starters and Tom Morgan will be the early reliever. Left-hander Pete Burnside, acquired from San Francisco, has made a good impression, as has right-hander Gerry Davis, a 26-year-old rookie who won 17 and lost five at Charleston last year.

"I've got good pitching," said Norman, "but I lack power and don't have the fastest team in the world. I'd also like to improve my bench. Ossie Alvarez can play second and Coot Veal can play short. I'm experimenting with Larry Osborne, at first baseman, in the outfield and at third."

Bill Spivey Named
MVP Of Cage Loop

HAZLETON, Pa. (AP) — The Eastern Professional Basketball League's most valuable player for this year is Bill Spivey of Wilkes-Barre, high-scoring ace from Kentucky.

Spivey won the title in balloting by league coaches and directors, and sportswriters and broadcasters covering league games. They also named Julius McCoy of Williamsport the league's rookie of the year.

Here are the results of the balloting for the league all-star team, as announced Thursday night by President Harry Rudolph:

First team—Stacey Arceneaux, Scranton; Tom Hemmas, Hazleton; Hal Lear, Easton; Spivey and McCoy.

Second team — Wally Choice, Easton; Richie Gaines, Easton; Jack Molinas, Williamsport; Ed Roman, Scranton; and Bud Thompson, Wilkes-Barre.

NEW STADIUM
IN NEW JERSEY
IS TORPEDOED

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — State Sen. Joseph W. Cowgill (D-Camden) says chances of building a baseball stadium in Delaware Township have been "effectively torpedoed."

Cowgill said Thursday the torpedo was fired by the township Board of Commissioners which, in a surprise about-face, took a firm stand Wednesday night against the proposed eight-mile transfer of the Philadelphia Phillies to the Camden County community.

The commissioners took their stand after studying a law sponsored by Cowgill which set up the Camden County Improvement Authority.

Not Enough Returns
Mayor Christian M. Weber of Delaware Township and the other two commissioners, John F. Fyle and Thomas Walton Jr., said they had been given the erroneous impression the township would receive at least $100,000 annually if a stadium was built by the Authority.

But, as the Authority is now set up, the commissioners said, they would get only "peanuts."

They didn't, however, close the door entirely. They said the stadium would be a good thing if the township could get the $100,000 annually from the authority and the Phillies in lieu of taxes. The Authority holds its first monthly meeting today.

In Clearwater, Fla., where the Phillies train, President Bob Carpenter was informed by newsmen of the opposition.

"I'd rather not say too much about it until I hear all of the facts," Carpenter said.

Capitani Starts
Workouts Today
Frank Capitani, former Gettysburg College star, was scheduled to start spring training workouts today at the Philadelphia Phillies minor league camp in Leesburg, Fla.

Capitani shone in the outfield for Gettysburg last year hitting a lofty .538. The Phillies signed him to a bonus pact upon graduation and he started his pro career with Williamsport of the Class A Eastern League. He was later sent down to Olean, N. Y., of the Class D New York-Pennsylvania League.

He and his recent bride drove to Leesburg from their Wormleysburg home.

PICK BRADLEY
OVER ST. JOHN'S
ON SATURDAY

NEW YORK (AP) — Bradley was made the early favorite today to beat St. John's of New York in their Saturday afternoon championship game of the National Invitational Basketball Tournament.

The top-seeded Braves, fourth ranked nationally, and the New York Redmen reached the final by whipping NYU and Providence, respectively, in Thursday night's semifinals before a sellout 18,496 at Madison Square Garden.

Bradley blew a 10-point lead in the second half, but pulled out a 59-57 squeaker over NYU. St. John's routed Providence, the Cinderella team of the tourney, 76-55.

Bradley holds a regular season 71-66 victory over St. John's and it is primarily on this basis that the Braves are favored to repeat their 1957 victory in the NIT final.

Looks Like A Giant
As Chuck Orsborn, Bradley coach, put it "We know what St. John's is all about."

Joe Lapchick, St. John's coach, declared "Bradley looks like a giant." Bobby Joe Mason and Joe Billy McDade helped the Braves win the 1957 net title and this is another factor in making Bradley the choice.

NYU fought from behind all the way after Bradley got off to a quick 9-0 lead. Mike Owens was high for Bradley with 16 points, but it was McDade's good defensive job on NYU's Tom Sanders that drew praise from Orsborn. "That hook shot of his that broke the tie was a thing of beauty."

Altogether McDade finished with 10 points, nine rebounds and two assists. Russ Cunningham wound up with 8 points, 15 in the last half.

Made Gallant Stand
Providence made a gallant stand in the first half, rallying to take the lead twice at 16-15 and 18-17 and to tie twice at 20-20 and 22-22, but then the witching hour struck. A free throw and basket by Dick Engert broke the tie. Providence never threatened again.

Big Lou Roethel, with 22 points sparked St. John's. Lennie Wilkens starred for Providence with 17 points.

The Bradley-St. John's game will be nationally televised (NBC). NYU and Providence will play for third place.

TORONTO TOPS
CHAMPS 6-3;
PUSH NEW YORK

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Everybody said, as Toronto wallowed around in the National Hockey League cellar, that the Maple Leafs looked like the makings of a fine team next year.

But the Leafs apparently have decided not to wait. Thursday night, they battered the league-leading Montreal Canadiens 6-3 on Montreal's home ice and frightened the wits out of New York Rangers.

The Leafs have 61 points and are in fifth place. New York, holding the fourth and last playoff spot, has 62 points. Each has two games to play.

Since the top three playoff positions are taken by Montreal, Boston and Chicago respectively, the only question is whether Toronto, New York or Detroit will get the fourth.

Dick Duff, who was the first of the Leafs to score 20 goals, added his 27th and 28th Thursday night. George Armstrong became the sixth Leaf to reach the mark when he scored one goal.

The Toronto power was turned on against a rookie goater. Regular Jacques Plante sat this one out because of a bad case of boils. Claude (Suitcase) Provost took his place. The Leafs blasted five of their goals past him before the Canadiens replaced him with Claude Cyr, who let in the last goal.

Troop 73 Scouts
At Weekend Camp
Ten members of Boy Scout Troop 73 with their scoutmaster, Gene Eckert, and assistant scoutmaster, David McClure, camped last Saturday and Sunday at the Forty and Eight chateau in the South Mountains. They worked on First and Second class requirements, cooked two meals in the open and had a lesson in gun safety. They also did some target firing with a .22 calibre rifle and built a ladder, teepee and look-out tower.

Boys on the trip included Stewart Bloom, Ronald Deitch, John Mike Shealer, John Teeter, Kenneth and Walter Skidmore, Barclay Collins and David Lott.

FIVE DAYS OF
FLORIDA RAINS
HIT BASEBALL

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer
The Cincinnati Reds and Los Angeles Dodgers finally will get together tonight for their hastily scheduled exhibition game after spending Friday playing hide-and-go-seek, thanks to the weather.

The two teams will meet in Havana's Gran Stadium. They will play again in Gran Stadium Saturday instead of Tampa, as originally scheduled.

The fifth straight day of rain on Florida's Gulf Coast caused the sudden shift. The Reds originally were slated to meet St. Louis at St. Petersburg Thursday and the Dodgers to entertain Baltimore at Sarasota. Rain washed out these games.

Most Rained Out
The Phillies-Detroit, Yankees-Milwaukee, Pittsburgh-Kansas City and Washington-Chicago White Sox also were rained out of Florida games Thursday.

In Arizona Tom Brewer and Murray Law combined for a 2-1 Boston Red Sox victory over the Chicago Cubs. The pair allowed the Cubs six hits, one Bobby Thomson's home run.

Dave Hillman just missed being the first pitcher to go nine innings this spring. He allowed Boston only four hits and two walks in eight innings.

The San Francisco Giants belted five home runs to outslug the Cleveland Indians, 9-6. Giants' shortstop Andre Rodgers hit two as part of a perfect day at the plate.

Four of the Giant homers were off Herb Score, making his third start of the exhibition season. Minnie Minoso and Woody Held homered for the Indians.

Pick Patterson
By Big Margin
LONDON (AP) — If Brian London is scared — or even awed — at the thought of meeting world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson, he doesn't show it.

"I am ready to meet Patterson tomorrow," he proclaimed today. "I am fit and ready."

The former British heavyweight champion meets Patterson in a world title fight in Las Vegas, Nev., April 21. This one has been billed as a tuneup for Patterson for Ingmar Johansson of Sweden in New York probably June 23.

London said he planned to leave for the United States next week to get "acclimated."

"I never have seen Patterson except on films," he admitted. "But I am looking forward to the fight. I'll go in fighting and throwing punches. I've always given the crowd its money's worth and I'll do it against Patterson."

The local folks aren't enthused over London's chances and one of the top bookmakers in England wasted no time in making Patterson a 10-1 favorite.

HOPE TO OPEN
$15,000 GOLF
TOURNEY TODAY

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP) — Touring pro golfers were ready to take another stab at getting the $15,000 St. Petersburg Open under way today after being thwarted Thursday by a steady downpour which left the Lakeside course virtually unplayable.

If play can be started today the 71-hole tournament will run through Monday instead of Sunday.

Probably the most thankful for the day's delay is Gary Player, the South African who performed so sensationally over here last year. He won one event, tied for first in two others, losing the playoffs; was second in the National Open, and grossed nearly $22,000 in this country in 1958.

Player made a flying trip from Johannesburg by way of London to arrive in time to open his 1959 competition in the United States here, and he just can't get adjusted to the time change.

He kept dropping off to sleep while holding a daytime conversation with a friend, who finally asked what was wrong.

"It's 5 o'clock in the morning in South Africa," Player said apologetically. "I just don't feel right. I don't expect to be right for about three weeks. I don't believe I'll do well here at all."

2 MIDDLE-AGE
BOWLERS TIE
FOR HIGH GAME

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Practice may make perfect for some people, but a couple of bowlers who competed in the American Bowling Congress Tournament Thursday found the reverse to hold more truth.

Two middle-aged men, both of whom had long layoffs, tied for the high single game of the tournament with 289.

Alan Post, a 47-year-old gas station operator from Las Vegas, Nev., had not bowled for 12 years before he started again six months ago. After games of 148 and 204 in his singles, he hit 10 strikes in a row. The 11th ball didn't come up to the pocket, and the No. 2 pin failed to fall.

Elmore Broadhead's 289 came in the middle game of his team event. The 44-year-old St. Louis dentist is not bowling in a league this season. A three-game session two weeks ago was his only warm-up for the tournament. Broadhead opened with a 172 before he began his strike binge. After 10 strikes, his eleventh ball appeared to enter the pocket perfectly, but the No. 10 pin didn't tumble. Broadhead finished with a 173 for a 634 series, helping to bolster the Valley Shoe Co. of St. Louis to a 2898 total.

SIME, MORROW
RACE SATURDAY

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — Another duel between Dave Sime and Bobby Morrow, a couple of those "world's fastest humans," furnished all the talk today as the West Texas Relays opened with 700 schoolboys in action.

Saturday Sime, the Duke Redhead, and Morrow, the Olympic sprint champion from Abilene Christian College, have at it for the fourth time.

Sime, holder of the world's record in the 200-yard dash at 20.0 and co-holder along with Morrow and five others of the world's 100-yard record at 9.3, is one up on the Abilene Christian star.

Twice Sime beat Morrow in the 100 and once Morrow beat Sime in the 100 meters.

With Glenn Davis, the Ohio state hurdles and quarter-mile king, as competition plus four other Texas sprint stars, Sime and Morrow clash Saturday afternoon in the 100.

Say High Altitude Blasts Produced Valuable Facts

By JOE F. KANE
WASHINGTON (AP) — America's spectacular high altitude nuclear blasts produced valuable information for both military men and scientists, officials say.

But they are talking only in general terms about knowledge gained from the three space explosions late last summer which sent a man-made electronic sheet around the world.

After the high-hush tests became known, Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald Quarles told a news conference Thursday:

1. The world's first known nuclear blasts in space helped the national security.
2. The tests advanced the basis of knowledge required to develop antimissile missiles; they produced results that will be used in perfecting radar systems needed to put an antimissile missile on course; they gave information to back up the Nike-Zeus antimissile now under development.
3. The explosions 300 miles above the South Atlantic will help U.S. offensive weapons.

Not Explained
Questions about the "how" of these statements got no answers. Pentagon officials, however, indicated knowledge that certain radio frequencies and electromagnetic impulses would be interrupted by high altitude radiation.

The tests indicated a sort of electronic veil can be thrown around the earth to cut radar and radio reception. This might make it possible to knock out a nation's early warning system by nuclear blasts on the edges of space. Even if the invisible veil lasted only hours, it would be long enough to hide the rapid advance of attacking missiles or bombers.

Results Later
On the other hand, some sources had suggested a high nuclear blast could release enough radiation to make a dud of an enemy nuclear bomb. But many physicists doubt this is even a possibility.

Nonmilitary results of the tests eventually will be made public.

Nine ships of a special Navy task force took part in the secret project known as Argus. They included the aircraft carrier Tarawa and four destroyers. The 57-foot-long rockets that jabbed into space with their atomic payload were launched from the converted seaplane tender Norton Sound last Aug. 27, Aug. 30 and Sept. 6.

SEEK SPEEDUP ON SHORTWAY

By CHARLES WELSH
BROOKVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Keystone Shortway backers, their giant project finally begun, turned attention today to a new drive to speed up the timetable for finishing the road.

No target date has been set, officially, for completion of the four-lane toll-free expressway designed to stretch 291 miles across the north-central area of the state from Sharon in the west to Stroudsburg in the east. State officials have said only that it will be built as funds become available. There have been indications this might take more than a de-

BOY ROBS BANK WITHOUT GUN; RECOVER LOOT

KRUM, Tex. (AP) — Charles Roy McCrory, 19, worried because his sharecropper family's tractor was repossessed, robbed the Farmers & Merchants State Bank here Thursday without a gun.

An alert Texas highway patrolman arrested him an hour later as McCrory filled the gas tank of a pickup truck he used as a getaway vehicle.

Police who followed highway patrolman Claud Hogue into the filling station at his radio summons pulled $1,865 from the vehicle's glove compartment.

Krum is about 35 miles northwest of Dallas.

All Money Recovered
All the money was recovered, police said. Dist. Atty. Robert Caldwell Jr., who filed charges of armed bank robbery against the pleasant-mannered robber, said the charges may have to be modified because McCrory had no gun.

McCrory, smiling and joking with his captors, told them he handed a note to Mrs. Ruth Hilliard, cashier of the bank, which read:

"I want to borrow $2,000 for two years. Give me all your $5, $10, and $20 bills. My looks is my security."

"Scared Me"
"When she put her hand into the drawer," he laughed, "I thought she was going for a gun and she nearly scared the living daylight out of me."

McCrory said he stayed up late Wednesday night trying to figure a way to get money to regain a tractor that had been repossessed. He said he farmed near Boyd, in adjoining Wise County, with his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McCrory. He said he decided then to rob the Krum bank.

"Greatest Undertaking"
State Sen. Z. H. Confair (R-Ly. coming), who was re-elected president of the Shortway Assn. Thursday, made it plain he will fight for faster action. Confair spoke of completing two lanes across the state by 1966, the entire highway by 1970.

Traffic demands will justify this, Confair said. Other members of his group agree the project should have a higher priority in the overall state highways program than has been evident.

They see it as the starting point of a vast economic boom, spurring widespread industrial expansion along its route through 14 counties.

Gov. Lawrence hailed the project as "the greatest single public works undertaken in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania."

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Hold-out coal mine operators and the United Mine Workers of America took a wait-and-see position today with a petition for a strike injunction.

SAY APALACHIN MEETING WAS A SOCIAL CALL

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Rochester, N.Y. brothers are telling the State Investigation Commission the same story told by others—that they were only visiting a sick host at the time a gangland convention was held at Joseph Barbara's Apalachin, N.Y., mansion.

The testimony may not open jail doors for Frank Valenti, 47, and Costenze Valenti, 32.

Commission Chairman Jacob Grumet said the brothers "were very well rehearsed" for their appearance at a public hearing Thursday.

Grumet called Frank's testimony "inherently incredible" and "unequivocally unworthy of belief."

A "Social Call"
Costenze repeated much that his brother had said. He said the auto trip to Apalachin, N.Y., was meant as a social call.

The Valentis and five other men have been in jail here since August for refusing to answer questions before the commission. They were jailed indefinitely for contempt on State Supreme Court orders.

The brothers announced Tuesday they were ready to talk. The commission and other agencies have been trying for a long time to get the real story on the meeting of 60-odd underworld figures and associates held Nov. 14, 1957, at the mansion of the ailing Barbara.

7-Stage Rocket Will Reach Moon

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A space scientist says a seven-stage rocket to take man to the moon within the next four years is in the planning stages.

The rocket, called Nova, was described at a conference here Thursday by Dr. Abe Silverstein, director of space flight development for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Silverstein said the first three stages will be 260 feet tall—about equal to a 26-story building. He gave no details of the final four stages.

The first three stages will power the rocket to the moon. It may carry two or three men. A fourth stage will slow the rocket down for landing on the moon, and the other three will return it to earth.

SCHOOL BUS IS HIT BY TRUCK

MOULTRIE, Ga. (AP) — Nearly 40 children escaped with minor injuries when a trailer truck smashed into the rear of a school bus Thursday and cascaded its load of cast iron pipe into the rear of the homeward bound bus.

The truck driver, Johnny A. Spears of Anniston, Ala., leaped from his vehicle just before the collision plunged the heavy sections of pipe through the cab.

The bus was carrying 75 white school pupils ranging from 6 to 16 years of age.

Thirty-seven youngsters were treated for injuries. None was hurt critically. The accident occurred at Doerun, 12 miles northwest of here.

Spears was treated for shock and several broken ribs. He said he saw the school bus but did not know it was going to stop until too late.

Pieces of cast iron pipe ripped up some of the seats in the rear of the bus and narrowly missed some of the children.

TWO ARE SLAIN WHILE SEATED IN THEIR HOME

WYNONA, Okla. (AP) — Two members of a Wynona family were killed and three others were wounded Thursday night as they sat in the living room of their home.

An 18-year-old relative who had shared the home of Joe and Freda Moreland for the past four weeks was arrested in connection with the shooting. He is Jerry Miller, a brother of Mrs. Moreland.

Wynona police said Miller was found hiding in a barn near the Moreland home. He offered no resistance.

Osage County Sheriff Dick Streetman said a .22 caliber pistol was found a short distance from the Moreland house.

Woman Critical
County Atty. Pat Williams said Miller declared, "I didn't know why I did it."

Killed were Moreland and his 1½-year-old daughter, Paula.

Mrs. Moreland was critically wounded by a bullet in the neck. The couple's sons, Charles, 8, and Jerry Wayne, 4, were less seriously wounded.

Highway patrolman Joe Burns said Charles Moreland told him young Miller was the gunman.

"Jerry just came out of his room and started shooting," the youngster was quoted. "He'd been acting funny after dinner. He just sat there."

DIES OF INJURIES

JOHNSTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Injuries suffered last Friday night when he was struck by a trolley caused the death Thursday night of Julius H. Bischof, 68-year-old Johnstown retired railroad worker.

John Roth, 58, operator of the trolley, said Bischof was walking along the rails and stepped in front of the trolley when the bell was sounded. Bischof was pinned under the trolley nearly an hour.

New Jersey installed its electric chair at the Trenton State Prison in 1907. Before that hanging was the method of execution.

TOLLTAKERSON STRIKE MAY BE DISCHARGED

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) —The New Jersey Turnpike Authority says that striking employees who do not show up for today's 3 p.m. shift will be fired.

But the authority adds it is willing to arbitrate with the unionists on what it feels are the two big reasons why the strike took place:

1. The suspension of two employees — who were subsequently reinstated.
2. The authority's refusal to permit men to wear union buttons on their uniforms.

Spokesmen for the striking toll collectors and maintenance men have asserted that the discontent is deeper than the two publicized reasons.

W. W. Wanamaker, executive director of the superhighway, told a striker's delegation no paychecks would be issued "until I learn what each employee is going to do." He said any employee wishing to turn in his $200 worth of uniforms would get his paycheck.

In all the authority has suspended 429 toll collectors

NEW SALES TAX PROPOSAL WILL HIT CAR AND TRUCK BUYERS WITH

Double Taxation

The Pennsylvania General Assembly now has before it a new sales tax bill which if allowed to become law would in effect double or triple tax collected on motor vehicles.

Here's an example of the tax you are now paying:

Purchase price of new car	$3,000
Less trade-in	2,000
Net difference	$1,000
You pay 3% Sales Tax on net difference only or $30.

Here's what you will be paying under the NEW TAX:

Purchase price of new car	$3,000
Less trade-in	2,000
Net difference	$1,000

You will pay 3½% of total purchase price or $105.

This is an increase in sales tax on your transaction of over 300%.

HEFFERNAN IS
SPEAKER FOR LEGION EVENT

Over a hundred Legionnaires, auxiliary members and guests were in attendance at the banquet and party Thursday evening in the Kingsdale Fire Hall in celebration of the 40th anniversary of the American Legion and the 28th birthday of the Ocker-Snyder Post No. 321, originally chartered as the John W. Ocker Post No. 321.

James Heffernan, York, past central section commander of the department and past district commander, was the guest speaker. He prefaced his message with remarks commending the local post on its accomplishments. He then explained the organization of the American Legion on March 17, 18 and 19, in 1919 to take care of disabled veterans, widows, orphans and to serve in the community, the state and the nation. The speaker stated that 22 million veterans are eligible to join the three-war organization, all that is needed is an honorable discharge from the armed forces and that all veterans should consider it an "obligation as well as a privilege" to be active.

In a resume of the accomplishments of the American Legion during 40 years of service, Past Commander Heffernan emphasized the GI Bill of Rights which made it possible for ten million veterans to go to college or take vocational training and for five million to purchase homes. This vast educational training and for five million to purchase homes. This vast educational program produced a million administrative specialists, 300,000 engineers, 500,000 liberal arts students, 400,000 teachers, 135,000 scientists, 135,000 metal workers, 130,000 lawyers, 120,000 doctors and 70,000 clergymen. He also noted that 17 million boys participated in Junior baseball and that 4,500,000 students participated in oratorical contests. Since 1925, $140,000 has been spent for needy children.

Bigger Job Ahead
In the future, the speaker stated, there is an even bigger job because "the Communists are out to destroy America." He pointed out things to look for in the government which are subversive. He expressed the opinion that religion should be left out of politics since no man who fought or died for his country was disqualified because of his religion. He concluded by saying: "The voices of the Legionnaires are the voices of the world; the Legionnaires fought to save America; others are attempting to destroy it."

Russell S. Hamme, Shiloh, commander of the 22nd District, brought greetings from the district and the department. Harry Ridinger, Gettysburg, chief de gare of the Forty and Eight, represented that organization and urged those in attendance to "uphold the traditions of the Legion for God and country."

Mrs. Gerald Flinchbaugh, Dallastown, first vice president of the Four-County Council, extended congratulations from the council, stating that the local Legion auxiliary is among the most active in the council. Mrs. James W. Fager, president of the Ocker-Snyder Auxiliary unit, spoke briefly and extended an invitation for all auxiliary members to attend the monthly meetings. Gerald Flinchbaugh, Dallastown, past district commander, was also a guest, as were Mrs. Russell Hamme, Mrs. James Heffernan and Mrs. Harry Ridinger.

Beaven F. Hanlon, chairman of mittee and master of ceremonies, presented the members of the committee as follows: Robert W. Gouker, Ralph R. Ruggles, Norman Sentz, Lawrence Crouse, James W. Fager, Claude Snyder, George C. Dehoff and Mrs. James W. Fager. In addition to introducing the guest speakers, he also presented past Deputy District Commander Ralph R. Ruggles, Adjutant Paul E. Altoff and Service Officer Stewart N. Long. The latter spoke concerning the forthcoming Legion-sponsored Better Homes and Gardens show to be held April 2, 3 and 4, at Bankert's roller rink, N. Queen St., with 30 exhibitors and with a seven-day all-expense-paid cruise for two to Nassau as the door prize, in addition to the many prizes which the exhibitors themselves are planning to give away.

Reviews Post History
Chairman Hanlon introduced Ernest R. Sentz, who gave a brief history of the post since its organization in November, 1931, with the following charter members some of whom were in attendance at the banquet: Benjamin B. LeFevre, C. Stanley Zercher, Philip D. Weaver, Harry O. Harner, Harold J. Angell, Charles M. Morehead, Charles A. Long, Claude R. Harner, Hobson D. Crouse, Noah C. Snyder, Ralph V. Bowers, Frank A. Eckenrode, Ernest R. Sentz, Clarence E. Mayers, Theron E. Basehoar, Malcolm E. Hess, William C. Mundorff, Eugene F. Hipp, Roy E. Smith and Joseph D. Angell.

Continue Projects
Legionnaire Sentz read excerpts from minutes with emphasis on former social events of the unit, also noting that many of the annual events begun in the early years are still continued, such as the Easter egg hunt for the children, the awarding of medals to outstanding students in public and parochial schools; the placing of flags on graves of veterans on Memorial Day; the Armistice Day church services, the selling of poppies, etc.

It was also recalled that the first community ambulance bought by the Legion was dedicated in August, 1941, and it was replaced with a new ambulance in 1954; a spotter post was placed atop the Legion meeting room in the former Regent Theater building, during World War II; the present Legion Home was purchased in 1943 and the official name of the post was changed to Ocker-Snyder, following the death of Glenn Snyder, first veteran of the community to give his life in World War II.

Commander Elmer W. M. Duttera served as chairman for the opening of the evening's program, which began with the pledge of allegiance and prayer by post chaplain, James W. Fager. A roast chicken meal was served by the Kingsdale Fire Company auxiliary members, at the conclusion of which Commander Duttera introduced the out-of-town guests and also presented past commanders of the post who were present, as follows: Charles M. Morehead Sr., first commander, who spoke briefly, Ruel Schwartz, Ernest R. Sentz, Harry O. Harner, William J. Yingling, J. Ray Reindollar, Francis J. Will, James W. Fager, Clarence J. Krichen Sr., Ralph R. Ruggles, Robert W. Gouker, Donald L. Beford and Lawrence Crouse. All veterans of World War I in attendance were also recognized.

Each lady present was given a corsage to wear as she entered the banquet room, which was attractively decorated in a patriotic color scheme of red, white and blue. Even to the floral centerpieces on the tables. Dancing was enjoyed at the conclusion of the program with The Four Guys providing music and there were cards for those who wished to play.

PARISH WOMEN
DISCUSS FUND
RAISING PLANS

Fund raising projects were discussed at the March meeting of St. Aloysius Parish Council of Catholic Women, held on Wednesday evening following the church service, in the parish hall.

The public card party held on Tuesday evening netted approximately $300 which proceeds will go toward the New Convent Fund. The pastor, the Rev. Fr. William A. Boyle, in speaking briefly to the council women, expressed thanks to those who worked and those who patronized this annual affair. Special party awards went to Clarence C. Sheely and Mrs. Lloyd F. Weaver, Miss A. Marie Budde was card party committee chairman.

The next fund raising project of the council for the treasury will be a food sale on Friday, April 10, in the vacant storeroom of the Riley building on E. King St., formerly occupied by Madeline's Beauty Shop. Mrs. Thomas L. Cookson is chairman of the committee on arrangements. The women of the parish will be contacted for donations of foodstuffs for the food sale.

Announce Meetings
Mrs. Clyde H. Rohrbach, president, was in charge of the business meeting and heard reports from Mrs. Regina Arter, secretary, and Miss Marie Budde, treasurer. The monthly message from the national council president was read by Mrs. Arter. A contribution of $5 was voted to the Heart Fund. There was an explanation by the president concerning the messages which members were invited to write for "Crusade for Freedom"; free trips are being offered to winners selected from among the message writers, to go to Europe to broadcast their own message. Entry blanks were available from the president.

It was announced that the annual convention of the Harrisburg Diocesan Council of Catholic Women will be held on Monday, April 20, in Steelton. Delegates will be selected in the near future. Anyone desiring to attend by bus should notify the president as soon as possible; bus pick-ups will be made in this community. Mrs. Robert J. The next meeting of the Cone-wago Deanery Council will be held on Sunday, April 5, in New Oxford, when election of officers will be held and plans for convention exhibits will be furthered. Parish chairmen who have material for their deanery chairman should take it along to this open meeting.

To Prepare Slate
Mrs. Rohrbach appointed the following nominating committee to prepare a slate of officers for election in April: Mrs. R. Guy Lain, Mrs. Stewart N. Long and Mrs. George P. Smith. A contribution of $10 was voted as a graduation prize for Delone Catholic High School commencement. A coffee social followed the business meeting. The guess package, given by Mrs. Ivan D. Rickrode, was received by Miss Marie Budde.

The council will meet again on Wednesday, April 15, when the following committee will serve: Mrs. George Ernst, parish chairman of Cooperation with Catholic Charities, Mrs. Ivan Rickrode, Mrs. Donald J. Staub, Mrs. Albert Carbaugh, Mrs. Thomas Collins, Mrs. Clyde E. Harner, Mrs. Burnell R. Keagy, Mrs. William Mehring, Mrs. George Wherley and Mrs. John O'Donnell.

Fugitive Eludes
Pennsy Constable

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A Pennsylvania constable gave chase late Thursday to a man resembling fugitive Frank L. Sprenz.

Constable Lawrence Rich of Mahoningtown, Pa., said the man was driving a 1959 oldsmobile. When last seen, he was on western reserve road about 10 miles south of here. Rich did not get the auto license number.

Sprenz is one of the FBI's 10 most wanted criminals. He is accused of a $25,955 bank holdup on March 2 at Hamilton, Ohio, where he used a stolen plane to aid his flight.

Parade Of New Electrical Appliances On View Now By Dealers In This Area

With spring turning the corner into 1959, the M. A. Hartley Company called the attention of electrical dealers and homeowners throughout this area today to the parade of new products in the electrical field for 1959.

"More things can be done by electricity and done better than ever before," Richard Hartley, local company manager, said. "There are improved new electrical gadgets to take the whole family through the day from an electrical alarm clock to get them up in the morning to electrical blankets to make bedtime comfortable again at night."

"Every household duty for the housewife from such menial tasks as opening a can of food to the complete preparation of a meal on an electric range can be made easier, safer and more convenient by the use of new, improved, more attractive and more efficient electrical accessories," Mr. Hartley pointed out.

Home Heating By Electricity
Pointing to the increasing use and acceptance of the Gold Medalion symbol of adequate wiring in homes and commercial buildings, Mr. Hartley talked first of the growing popularity and use of Chromalox electrical heating. The Chromalox line which has been established for more than 30 years, he said, produces all types of electrical burners from the single burner unit on a stove to huge installations that heat vats in steel plants.

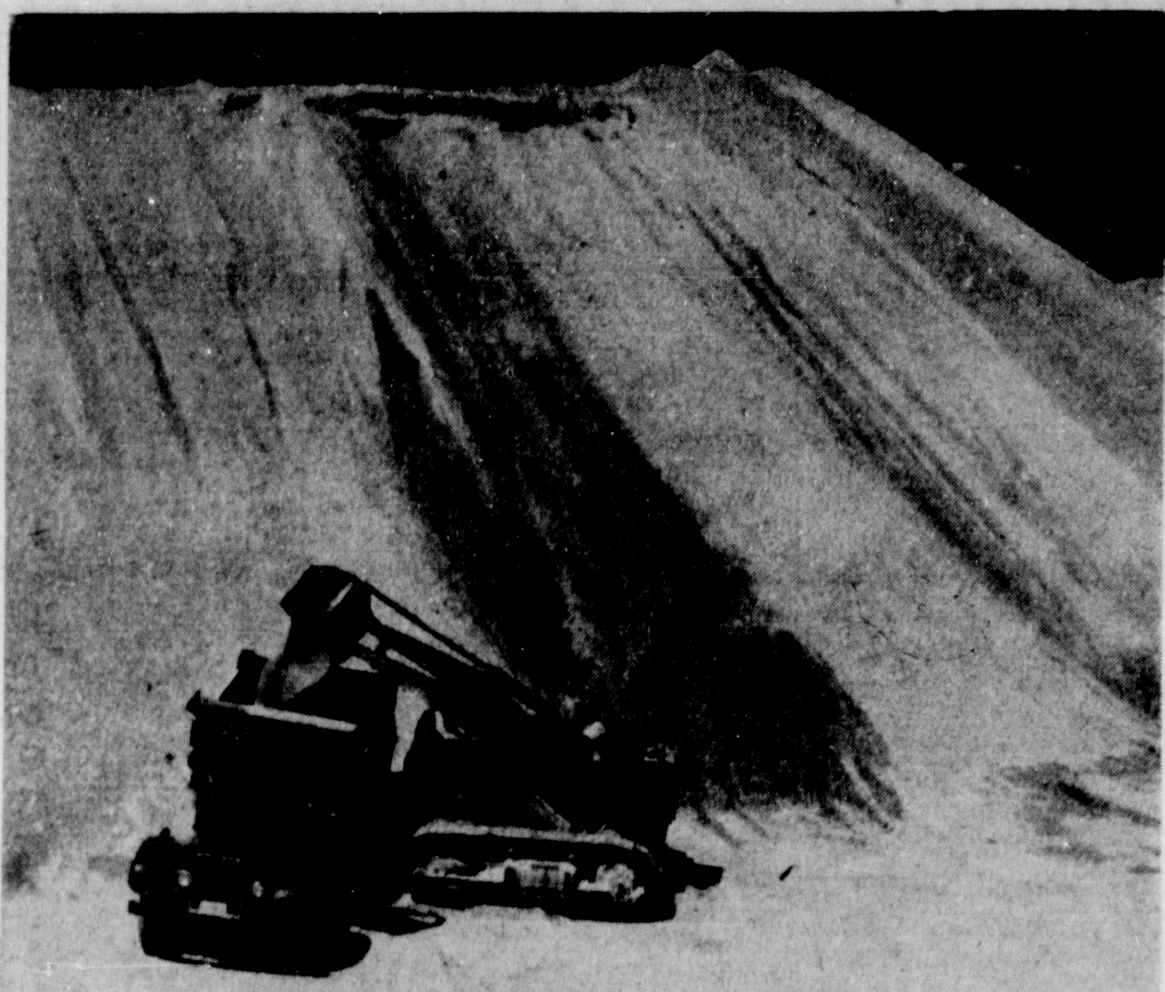

Chromalox in residential heating offers baseboard installations, radiant wall heat, heat panels, conventional heaters that are fan-driven and ceiling cables.

Breakers Instead Of Fuses
Increasing use of circuit breakers instead of fuse panels in home wiring was pointed to by Mr. Hartley as another big step forward in safety and convenience for householders. "Breakers not only prevent overloading of a circuit that sometimes happens when ordinary fuses are employed but they are safer, more convenient and do not have to be replaced. They are flexible, too, and offer protection for any desired electrical load. There is a complete line of circuit breaker units now for residential uses and they are steadily replacing the conventional fuse."

Mr. Hartley recalled that the model home at the recent builders' show in Harrisburg featured a General Electric breaker system, one of the lines that the M. A. Hartley Company handles.

Eye-saver Bulbs
A new development in home lighting and one that is becoming more and more popular is a dimmer control system than can raise or lower lighting levels and can be tied in with the functions and decorations for various parts of the house. Low voltage Remcon control centers provide an easy means of turning off or on all of the lights in the house from one central point. It is noiseless and with low voltage allows complete safety from "shocks" or "shorts."

Then there is the new Westinghouse eye-saver bulb of a new design that equalizes the brightness throughout the lighting unit and burns with the whiteness of fluorescence instead of the reddish glow of the old style incandescent bulb.

New Name, New Jobs

The old standby, the air conditioner, for home use has new uses and a new name—a heat pump. It now is used around the year to heat or cool a home. And another step along the same line is the dehumidifier coming into general use for basements, laundries where dampness or moisture are problems and where the threat of mildew needs to be removed. The dehumidifier also removes any danger of odors than often accompany dampness.

Then there have been many improvements in both design and usefulness of a whole family of electrical appliances that have become almost standard equipment in most homes. There are frying pans, dish washers, mixers, vacuum cleaners, toasters, coffee makers, refrigerators and stoves, rotisseries, floor polishers, can openers, water heaters, irons, washers and dryers and a long list of other home conveniences that use electricity to "do the job better."

Electricity, its applications and developments are constantly making the home a safer, healthier, more convenient and comfortable place in which to live—and your electrical dealers have the appliances that will do the job for you, Mr. Hartley said.

EMMITSBURG — The annual Easter Seal drive will be conducted in the Emmitsburg area Saturday with the local Girl Scouts doing the door to door canvassing from 1 to 3 p.m. Anyone donating 10 cents or more will receive a small paper lily made by the children in the homes benefited by the Easter Seal drive.

Mrs. Stella Topper, Federal Ave., home after spending the past few weeks visiting her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Gunn and family, Riverside, N. J.

Mrs. Kenneth Vaughn and Mrs. Donald Stoner visited in Philadelphia Tuesday.

Miss Louise Miller quietly observed her birthday Sunday. Mrs. Francis Little was awarded the door prize at the St. Patrick's Day party Tuesday evening in St. Euphemia's Hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Clark and their sons have returned to their home in North Carolina after visiting here with Mrs. Clark's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Umbel, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lake and their daughter, of Norristown, are visiting Mrs. Lake's mother, Mrs. O. H. Stinson.

committee named by the governor has recommended that the Scotland School, established for the orphans of Civil War Veterans and since that time used for the orphans of veterans of all wars, be closed, and that the 500 children there be placed in foster homes and the buildings be used for a reform school for delinquents. We have joined the American Legion, VFW and Amvets in fighting this proposal. We urge backing of House Bill 390 which would prevent closing Scotland at the annual encampment of the GAR allied orders to be held starting June 21 at Reading.

Others Speak Briefly

Mrs. Irene Murphy, Reading, department president of the auxiliary; Major O. G. # The Day Christ Died

A bruised and suffering Jesus is made to bear the "tree" of His cross as He sets out on the tortured march to Golgotha. During this painful ordeal, Jesus is witness as the first tears are shed for His death, a scene that occasions His last prophecy.

11 A.M.
April 7, A.D. 30

THE SIGNS listing the crimes of the three prisoners were hastily painted, and when the high priests saw the one for Jesus, marked "King of the Jews," they became excited and upset and called for an immediate audience with Pontius Pilate.

They were admitted, and as one final favor asked that the sign be changed. They did not want the public to see Jesus proclaimed king of the Jews. He wasn't, and He did not pretend to be. Still, they did not dare say this.

So they said, as politely as they could, "Do not let your inscription be King of the Jews (The sign in Aramaic: 'Jeshu han nrotri malka dihuday.' In Latin: 'Hic est Juses rex Judaeorum.'). But: 'He said, I am the king of the Jews.'" At this, the procurator smiled grimly and said: "My inscription stands."

Sign Is Lettered

The sign was made as Pilate wanted it made. A laborer at the fortress used thin pine boards, about two feet long by one foot high, and these were coated with a whitish substance, like lead or gypsum. On it he lettered the words in black. At the execution grounds, the sign would be placed at the top of the cross for all to see.

Abenadar was an efficient soldier. He had drawn this duty before and knew the items he had to requisition — from soldiers to saddles to signs. He ordered a detail sent to fetch the two thieves from the dungeon, and these were placed in single file behind Jesus. A platoon of legionaries formed a box around the prisoners. The soldiers were armed with spears. Three guards arrayed themselves in front of each of the three condemned men. These carried the signs proclaiming the identity and crime of each.

The centurion ordered the "trees" from the supply room, and three soldiers left ranks to get them. Abenadar hurried back and forth across the courtyard on his several errands. He talked briefly with the executioner, a soldier who had been trained for this in Rome and who understood the exact ritual. He drew rations for the soldiers who would have to stand guard under the crosses. When everything was ready,

"And there followed him a great company of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him. But Jesus turning to them, said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for yourselves and your children." A fine etching of the scene in Luke 23:27-28 from the Print Collection of New York Public Library. (Half-tone)

The "trees" were placed on the right shoulder of each of the three criminals. This was the crosspiece only; the upright part of the cross was always left standing at the place of execution and was used many times.

The crosspiece was of cypress, about three inches by five inches and about six feet long. It weighed perhaps thirty pounds, and was fashioned roughly with an adze by the executioner.

In the bottom of the crosspiece, at the center, was an oblong mortise so that the crosspiece would fit over the upright piece. The sign would be nailed here and the spikes would lock both pieces of the cross together.

Wrists Are Bound

Each man shouldered his tree, and this too was done as ritually prescribed. The prisoners' wrists were bound together with rope which permitted a distance of about six inches between hands. As the crossbeam was placed on the right shoulder, the two hands curled over opposite sides of the beam, which jutted about thirty inches in front of the condemned, and about forty-two inches behind him, diagonally to the left.

If, in his agony of anticipation, the hands slipped off the beam, the short rope between wrists kept it from sliding to the street in front of the soldier marching behind. (There were other customs, including tying the beam across the back of the shoulders; but all the evidence indicates that the Romans in Palestine used the system of crucifixion as here described.)

Jesus Staggered

When the column was fully formed, the centurion walked the length of it and found it satisfactory. He called a forward march, and the little parade started through the archway. The few high priests moved aside and watched Jesus stagger as He started out under His burden.

The road from the arch to Golgotha (its name at the time of the crucifixion was Golgotha — "skull-like." "Calvary" was taken into our language from the Greek translation.) was almost exactly one thousand paces — about three thousand feet. The first part of the march was by a narrow road, hardly more than twelve feet wide, up a slight incline, then sharply down into the valley below.

Along the sides of the road, pilgrims pressed against the walls and argued loudly for guilt or innocence as the parade moved by. The legionaries moved the crowds

"And he bearing his cross went forth into a place called the place of a skull, which is called in Hebrew, Golgotha." An engraving by the classic German artist, Julius Schnoor von Carolsfeld. In The Day Christ Died, Jim Bishop explains why artists are inaccurate when they depict Jesus carrying anything except the "tree" or crosspiece of the cross. Uprights for the "trees" were always standing at the place of execution.

back, when necessary with their spears, and the soldier who led the procession on a horse shouted continuously for the people to make way for the soldiers of Rome.

At the bottom of the hill, Abenadar turned his column to the left, Jesus made the turn, following those in front, but He was so faint He could not take the next step forward.

Pitches Downward

The Messiah felt that He was falling, but He could not free His bound hands from the beam and, in a moment, He had pitched downward. He landed on His right knee and both elbows, and the crosspiece hung standing for a split second, and then fell away from Him.

The centurion wanted everything to be orderly. But after a quick glance at the muddy face, and the fresh rivulets of blood starting from the thorns on the right side of Jesus' head, he knew that it was useless, in front of a crowd, to order this Man to stand up and again shoulder the beam. The Roman did the next best thing. He studied the people in the crowd to find a man strong enough to shoulder the tree for the rest of the journey. He saw a farmer with brown bulging biceps, a man with a big dome of a head and a black beard. Abenadar beckoned to him and ordered him to pick up the crossbeam and carry it.

Simon Of Cyrene

The farmer cursed the moment he had permitted his curiosity to bring him to the front of the crowd. He was on his way from his farm to the city. His name was Simon of Cyrene. He was not a Jew, but a pagan (He gave his children pagan names: Rufus and Alexander.) and he was a prosperous man who did not want to be a party, however unwilling, to the problems of the Romans or the Jews.

Simon of Cyrene did as he was told. He picked the crossbeam up out of the dust and, with a grimace, threw it over his shoulder. He was ready. But Jesus lay on His right side, gasping, Abenadar reached down and lifted Him by the arm. Then he ordered the column forward. The pathetic parade moved down the street to the south, then turned right. Ahead was a formidable hill leading to the Gennath Gate. The walk to the cross was a little more than half finished.

Under the law, sympathy toward an accused was permitted; sympathy toward one condemned was forbidden. However, there was a society of charitable women of Jerusalem (cnaburati),

In Acute Pain

As Jesus dragged His feet up the long hill, He was in such acute pain that His breathing could be heard by the citizens who watched, and among them were these charitable women. Their hearts were moved and, when one of them burst into tears, all began to sob.

The Messiah stopped. His gaze turned shakily from one woman to the next until He had seen them all and had seen the reality of the tears — the first shed for His death. Then in a strained voice He warned the women of the impending pillage of their city:

"Daughters of Jerusalem," He said slowly and with massive effort, "do not weep for Me; weep for yourselves and your children; for, mark My words, a time is coming when people will say 'How blessed the wombs that have never borne children, and the breasts that have never nursed!'"

"Fall Upon Us"

"Then they will actually cry out to the mountains, 'Fall upon us!' and to the hills 'Bury us!'" For the final time, Jesus was a prophet and He had reserved His last warning for the women who were good of heart and who could bear to look upon a strange man reduced almost to the last breath of life.

"Yes," He said, nodding His head slowly, "if this is done to the green wood, what must be the fate of the dry?" (Jesus was the green wood, the new wood. The sinners were the dry wood. If they would do this to Him, what would they do to the jaded and the callous? In forty years, those who were left of these women, and their children, would see the horrors of unspeakable terror at the siege of Jerusalem.)

Abenadar came running back and urged the column to continue its march. The marchers started up again, and Jesus lifted a foot and brought it forward and set it down. Then, mechanically, He began the effort of lifting the other one and trying to move it ahead.

Beyond the horseman up ahead, Jesus could see the Gennath Gate. It had been a long difficult road for the Galilean, and it was almost a consolation to know that a few more steps would bring Him to the pinnacle of His promise — the chance to die for everyone.

Jesus is crucified. The moment for which He was born has at last arrived — a moment not of defeat, but of glory everlasting. Follow Jim Bishop's realistic account of the Crucifixion in Saturday's installment of "The Day Christ Died."

Sunday is a Special Day

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Day	Book	Chapter	Verses
Sunday	Luke	19	28-44
Monday	John	18	1-14
Tuesday	John	18	15-27
Wednesday	John	18	28-40
Thursday	John	19	1-16
Friday	John	19	17-30
Saturday	John	19	31-42

Sunday is a special day for Sheila. She likes to go to church.

For one thing, the church is beautiful. Sheila likes to look at the soft light filtering through the colored glass windows. She likes the delicate scent of the beautiful flowers, and the majestic tones of the organ. She likes to sing, too, and she knows several hymns "all the way through," even without the hymnal to guide her.

She particularly likes this season because she knows that Palm Sunday is a time for special rejoicing in the Church.

Sheila feels the way she does because her parents have taught her that going to church is a privilege and a joy. Is Sunday just another day for your child, or is it—as it is for Sheila—a special day?

Sunday School Lesson

By H. R. and M. C. Gold

FORGIVENESS THROUGH THE CROSS

Luke 23:18-49

Key Verse: Jesus said, "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do." Luke 23:34.

In last week's lesson the forces that were pulling Pilate in several directions were studied. The Gospels tell a number of times that Pilate found nothing wrong in Jesus and that it was his wish that Jesus be set free. The voice of the crowd only grew stronger. There were urgent cries that Jesus should be crucified. "So Pilate gave sentence that their demand should be granted" (Luke 23:24).

Through 19 centuries many learned men have sifted the various stories of these last hours of Jesus' life. Some of the unanswered questions are: Why did Judas have to betray his Lord? Suppose Jesus (knowing or suspecting Judas' plot) had gone elsewhere, perhaps quietly returning to His preaching in Galilee? What if Pilate had administered true Roman justice and set Jesus free?

As one looks over the total situation today, it seems that events worked out as Jesus most probably expected. He should not interpret this in any fatalistic way, that is, as though every person in the story acted in some predetermined way, without any element of real choice on their parts. Such an interpretation would rob the cross of all moral significance.

Victory Out Of Tragedy

It is still possible to believe that Jesus saw this probable turn of events, leading definitely to a cross, and that He deliberately chose that course. Jesus Himself was not being driven unwillingly by circumstance. He felt that God was traveling the road of suffering with Him.

In a sense God willed this terrible thing! Therefore God refused the plea, "Let this cup pass from me." And yet, through the ministry of God's Holy Spirit, human tragedy turns into victory. In the terrible cross God is not showing His fury, His hate, or His anger. In the terrible cross God is showing His everlasting love.

The Romans had crucified thousands of Jews before Jesus' day of suffering. And thousands were crucified later — some of them Christians. But history has singled out three crosses against the sky and has given them special place in story. The whole world knows, however, that these three are remembered only because of Him Who was enthroned upon the middle cross.

First Words From Cross

Of all the words spoken by our Lord from His cross the first portrays His full life and spirit: "Father, forgive them; for they know not what they do."

Forgive them! Forgive the mass hatred that had been stirred up against Him. Forgive the members of the Sanhedrin who had been most bitter in their envy and hatred (and in their fear) of Him. Forgive the hardened soldiers who were, after all, only carrying out a mission. Forgive Pilate, whose injustice would be recalled daily by millions of Christians in the recitation of their creeds. And finally, forgive that friend behind the scenes, the disciple who betrayed Him. From a body pulsing with pain and a heart still beating with love, Jesus prayed, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

The only shred of justice that Pilate could claim was summed up in the inscription he placed over Jesus: "This is the King of the Jews." No other charge against Jesus had the slightest chance of bringing Roman justice against Him. And while Pilate himself did not seriously believe the charge, he used the sign to irritate the Jewish leaders. This irritation is shown in some gospel accounts in which Pilate is asked to change the wording. This objection Pilate dismissed.

Christ, The Center

In the Gospels the climactic scene is significantly drawn: three crosses, with Christ, the center of all history, the divider and the judge of all mankind, in the center. One cross holds man's total rejection of God's laws and God's saving love. The third cross, too, holds sinful humanity. But it shows repentant humanity, humanity that recognizes God's justice but pleads for His mercy. "Jesus, remember me when you come in your kingly power."

As Jesus, with outstretched arms of blessing, included all sinful humanity in His plea, "Father, forgive them" so now He turns His eyes toward the repentant one and says, "Truly, I say to you, today you will be with me in Paradise."

In the three "words" from the cross that are studied in this lesson the whole ministry of God's Son is epitomized. Here is seen the whole as a single piece.

CHESTER HIGH EXPECTS TO STOP FARRELL

CHESTER, Pa. (AP) — Chester High School expects to win the PIAA Class A basketball title Saturday night against Farrell.

About the only one in this basketball-mad city who won't predict the Pennsylvania championship for the Clippers is coach Forwood.

Forwood says flatly he expects to win the crown NEXT year. When you talk about this year, he takes refuge in the coach's traditional pre-game statement:

"We'll be ready for anything. We have to be. Farrell can do anything on a basketball court."

Only One Senior

And then he talks with pride of his young team—only one senior starter and only three on the whole squad.

"This is the best team I've had and probably the most surprising. We started green. I was hoping to build for next year and here we are in the finals," says the man who three previous times has brought Chester to the championship round but has yet to take the big one.

Chester is sparked by All-State Grassy Lash and Sophomore Emerson Baynard. They have led the Clippers to a 27-1 record, the best in the school's history. The Eastern champions have averaged a remarkable 78 points a game while holding their opponents to 47—a 31 point average winning margin per game.

Young Speedsters

Lash has averaged 21.4 points. The junior speedster has an excellent jump shot and is a fine defensive player.

Baynard, a 6-3 sophomore, averages 19 points and 19 rebounds a game.

Bill Foster, a 6-foot junior, averages 16 points a game and has an excellent corner shot. "Every once in a while he goes wild and breaks a game wide open," says Forwood.

Whelton Miller, 6-1 and another junior, shares the rebounding chores with Baynard and Lash. He has averaged 9.5 points a game and like the fifth starter, Don Szegda (pronounced Sheg-da), has been performing unusually well in the regional playoffs.

Strong Bench

Szegda, 5-11 and the lone senior on the starting team, averages about six assists per game and has a 7.4 scoring mark. "A terrific playmaker," says Forwood.

On top call are Don Johnson, a 6-4 junior, and Norm Levin, 5-11, another junior. Each has seen plenty of action.

Forwood says Chester, known for its offensive prowess, is the best team he's coached because of its defensive ability. Its speed and rebounding ability are superior.

One of the differences between this club and the Chester powers of previous years, he says, is "these boys don't seem to feel pressure."

Farrell Determined

In advancing to the finals Chester easily defeated Ambler, Lansdowne-Aldan, Carlisle and Tamaqua. These four powers had a combined record of 94-2 and brought winning streaks totalling 81 games to the Palestra floor against Chester.

Chester should have a "home" court edge for the final (being televised at 7:30 p.m. from WFIL-TV) because of its previous experience on the University of Pennsylvania court.

But Farrell coach Eddie McCluskey says he has "every intention" of bringing his team's fourth state title back to western Pennsylvania. Farrell, with a 27-2 record is regarded by McCluskey as good as any team in his 11 seasons at the helm. Farrell's record under McCluskey is 249-49.

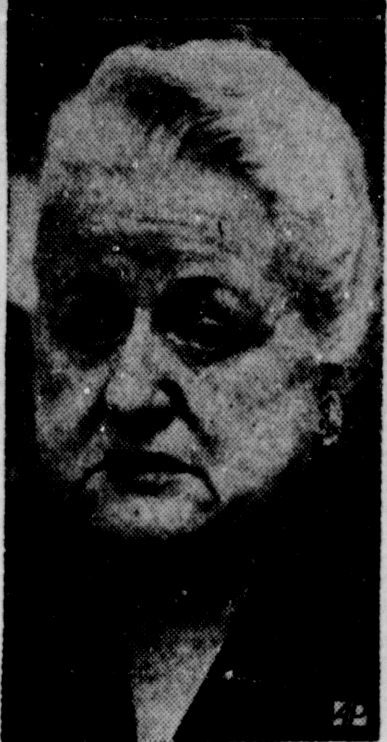

What brought Chester along so fast?

Scouted By Chester

Forwood says, "our lone loss (54-52 to Ridley Twp.) made the boys realize they could be beaten. It helped us more than anything else. With their confidence they felt up to then that all they had to do was shoot a few baskets and they'd win."

Forwood has won 153 games and lost only 15 in the past six years at Chester. But No. 154 is R.

what he wants most of all.

Farrell was the team that beat Chester in its first state final, back in 1964. In 1955 and 1957, Forwood's kids lost to McKeesport and Sharon.

"We know what Farrell can do. I have newspaper clippings of everyone of their games and we had two men scout them against DuBois (in the Western final)."

"Another thing going for us is that our boys want to win it so bad they can taste the victory."

"I want it so bad I can taste it."

PASSION SUNDAY

Just below the Golden Gate in the wall of Jerusalem is the little Valley of Kidron. Across the stream that flows through the valley floor and partway up the gentle lower slope of the Mount of Olives lies the Garden of Gethsemane.

It was in the Garden of Gethsemane that Jesus, saddened in the knowledge that He was about to be betrayed, withdrew from His disciples to a flat, light-colored rocky outcropping and prayed, saying:

"Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless not my will, but thine, be done."

"And there appeared an angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him."

"And being in agony he prayed more earnestly; and his sweat was as it were great drops of blood falling down to the ground." — (Luke 22:42-4)

SEN. SEYLER SAYS DPI PROBE "UNJUSTIFIED"

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Harry Seyler (D-York) today criticized a Senate probe of the State Public Instruction Department as unjustified.

"To date, in my opinion, no justification at all has been developed (by the probe) for the allegations made," he told a newsman, adding:

"In fact, the investigation so far has demonstrated considerable leadership in the Public Instruction Department. It has been an economical administration."

Seyler, a school principal, is one of five members of the investigating committee. The chairman is Sen. George N. Wade (R-Cumberland) whose charges of department mismanagement triggered the inquiry.

Seyler's criticism was leveled as the group prepared for a second day of hearings which were due to focus on special education and problems facing distressed school districts.

Dr. Harold F. Alderfer, chief of the department's administration section, told the committee Thursday that personnel have been "overworked" while funds have been spent on improvements and equipment.

Is Understaffed

"I think it (the department) is understaffed," Alderfer declared. "In other words," queried Sen. Thomas Ehrsgood (R-Lebanon), "money is taken from necessary personnel for the education of our children."

"It might be so interpreted," Alderfer replied.

Figures Differ

Alderfer said he believed that the huge agency's budget "is in balance."

Ehrsgood questioned him on the department's expenditure of money for installing a new audiovisual theater in the Education Building. Ehrsgood and Wade contend the cost may run as high as $100,000 when all factors are considered.

The department contends the room's remodeling and equipment cost only $32,000.

R. R. HISTORY PROGRAM

A program reviewing the history of the Maryland and Pennsylvania Railroad will be presented by the Baltimore chapter of the National Railway Historical Society Saturday at 8 p.m. in the Maryland Historical Society building, Park Ave. and Monument St., Baltimore. John Denny, Columbia, and Warren Olt, Baltimore, will relate the history of the road during the narrow gauge ear before 1899. The public is invited.

Seminary Faculty From Four Bodies

SASKATOON, Sask. (AP) — The faculty of the new Luther Theological Seminary here is a small ecumenical movement in itself.

The seven members represent four Lutheran church bodies — the Evangelical Lutheran Church, the Augustana Lutheran Church, the American Lutheran Church and the United Lutheran Church in America.

The Luther Theological Seminary was formed this year by the merger of the Lutheran College and Seminary and the Luther Seminary. It has 54 students drawn from six Lutheran church bodies.

Eleven of the students are from the United States.

NEW ORLEANS — Magic Circle City of the Week. Mardi Gras City is Tops at Spring Fiesta Time.

(By EDWARD COLLIER)

The built-in glamour of New Orleans is something that must be sensed; it calls for an attentive, a knowledge of the Mardi Gras city's colorful, exciting past. New Orleans is different from the rest of America. It has many faces, changing moods—and exceptional food. Fiction, movies and publicity bargains tend to oversell this sensitive city, and the novice visitor feels let down when he first drives along prosaic Canal Street; only during Mardi Gras (this year February 6-10) is it transformed into the glittering thoroughfare of imagination.

Spring Fiesta (April 5-18), when the bustle of Mardi Gras is over, is New Orleans at its sweet-scented, hospitable best. For this event many of the city's most beautiful mansions, including the restored private homes and gardens hidden from the street in the Vieux Carre, are open to the public. My favorite is the Patios by Candlelight Tour of the French Quarter, a jasmine and rose geranium-scented exploration into the romantic yesterdays.

Sunday Morning Visit

At other times of year the way to really know New Orleans is to start your Magic Circle drives around the city with a Sunday morning visit to historic Jackson Square in the Vieux Carre. First you will want to walk through the park where the U. S. flag was raised in 1803 over the one million square miles that constituted the Louisiana Purchase. Especially dramatic in the equestrian statue of Andrew Jackson, whose vov comprises the simple inscription elow the hooves of his horse: "The nation must and shall be preserved."

Across the street is St. Louis Cathedral, completed in 1794. The interior of the cathedral has a reverent beauty that long will linger in your memory. Next on the agenda is a stop at the opposite corner of Jackson Square for the ritual of coffee and doughnuts at the old French Market where, day and night, townspeople and visitors savor the hot beignets—square doughnuts dunked in sugar and which resemble a cream puff in shape.

By noon the iron picket fence along Jackson Square is lined with wares of French Quarter artists who have set up their easels on the sidewalk to sketch passersby.

Sleepy French Quarter

This is the time of day to strike up an acquaintance with the rest of the Vieux Carre, still asleep from a raucous Saturday night that ended at dawn. Only the stalls selling pralines are open. Tightly shuttered are the famed restaurants, Royal Street's countless antique shops, Bourbon Street's famed Dixieland jazz spots and night clubs dedicated to burlesque.

The bus, which has replaced the streetcar labeled "Desire," makes quick, silent stops. The full beauty and charm of the pastel, old-world buildings, with their delicate and intricate iron filigree balconies, can be admired and photographed at leisure.

From the French Quarter you drive across Canal Street into the 1959 world of New Orleans, best exemplified by the stunningly modern multi-colored Civic Center buildings, a bold development of an area formerly occupied by slum-like structures. Especially photogenic are the new State Supreme Court building and the $8 million City Hall, a temple of glass, stone and green and turquoise panels.

Stately Beauty

The Magic Circle of New Orleans follows the curve of St. Charles St., lined for miles by stately live oaks, magnolias and magnificent, conservative homes, old and new. The manicured lawns are adorned by a profusion of shrubs and flowers, which vary from vivid red poinsettias to lurid purple bougainvillea. St. Charles St. is divided by a grass center-piece, and it doesn't seem surprising that it carries the tracks for vintage-type streetcars.

Romance and history are basic to the glamour of New Orleans. The Mardi Gras City is famed for its Vieux Carre (old French Quarter), gourmet food, Dixieland jazz, the Sugar Bowl at Tulane University, Audubon Park and its bird zoo. The Magic Circle out of New Orleans leads to Chalmette National Historical Park, scene of Andrew Jackson's smashing victory in the War of 1812; Fort Pike State Park, where a shot was never fired; Fontainebleau State Park, a delight for picnicking and water sports. The return is via the new 24-mile Lake Pontchartrain Causeway, longest bridge in the world.

Among the showplaces on St. Charles is Loyola University and its back to back neighbor, Tulane University. The 90-acre Tulane campus reminded me of Texas, where imaginative buildings always seem to be in the process of construction. Particularly impressive is the new dome-shaped auditorium and the colorful modernistic dormitories which are but a few paces from the Sugar Bowl, Tulane's famed stadium.

Our whole family found something of interest and delight in Audubon Park, across St. Charles St. from the Tulane campus. Horseback riding, golfing and a small scale railroad, where adults do not have to be accompanied by children, were the first highlights of our Sunday afternoon.

Rare Birds

Even those who ordinarily see zoos only from a duty-to-the-children standpoint are fascinated by the number of unusual birds that live contentedly in simulated natural habitats. There are the rare whooping cranes, George and Gergette; the most baleful, beady-eyed vulture I have ever seen; marabou storks from Africa; an emu from Australia. The flamingos are as startlingly pink as any color-minded shutterbug could demand. One of the attendants told us that they attribute the flamingo's coral glory to a diet liberally sprinkled with paprika!

"Cemetery buffs," an odd but formidable segment of militant American tourists who seek out historic burying grounds, be they old Colonial graveyards in New England or Boot Hills in the Far West, call Metairie Cemetery the most beautiful in the world. At first the visitor is startled by the above-ground crypts and tombs, each owned down through the generations by one family. A striking horseback statue of General P. G. T. Beauregard, who ordered the first shot fired in the Civil War at Fort Sumter, tops the high earthen mound where he is buried.

A visit to New Orleans is not complete without seeing one of the pumping stations which keep the city from being inundated when it rains. Miles of canals, mostly covered and unnoticed, encompass the city and feed into the stations, which are equipped with awesome sized and specially constructed pumping machinery to dump 450,000 gallons of water a minute into Lake Pontchartrain. One of those most accessible to visitors is at the edge of City Park.

Battle Shrine

The Magic Circle out of New Orleans is via St. Claude Avenue (State 39) to Chalmette National Historical Park. Here has been preserved and enshrined the battlefield where General Andrew Jackson and his motley crew of soldiers, frontiersmen, Indians, townspeople and Jean Lafitte's pirates scored the greatest and most decisive victory of the War of 1812. Tersely worded metal plaques mark the various stages of the siege and the battle where 2,600 British troops were killed in comparison with American losses of seven killed and six wounded.

Focal point at Chalmette is the 100-foot spire, fashioned after the Washington Monument. My boys talked me into hiking to the top of the shaft for the contradictory but rewarding view. Below you can visualize the course of the battle. A few hundred yards away to the south are the protecting levees of the Mississippi; to the east and west are the huge but photogenic industrial plants which produce aluminum and sugar. On a clear day you can see the New Orleans skyline.

A touch of glamour not evident elsewhere at U. S. national monuments or parks is on tap here for Sunday afternoon visitors when eight beautiful girls from Chalmette High School, dressed in crinoline-type formal and called the "Little Colonels," serve as guides.

Fort Pike Preserved

From Chalmette the Magic Circle turns north and east (State 47 and U. S. 90) for Fort Pike State Park, built after 1819 to defend the navigation channels to New Orleans. Historians, boys and camera fans are enthralled, although a shot was never fired from the massive brick walls. The fort was abandoned after the Civil War.

Circling east (U. S. 190), the next stop is Fontainebleau State Park, a favorite spot for both tourists and New Orleans residents most months of the year. Located in what locally is called the "Ozone Belt," Fontainebleau's lure is in its majestic moss-hung live oaks and pines that go down to the wide, white sand beach of Lake Pontchartrain. Sun bathing, swimming, water skiing and fishing are favorite pastimes.

The Magic Circle returns to New Orleans via the new Lake Pontchartrain Causeway. The 24 miles across this longest of bridges in the world is a never-to-be-forgotten sensation. It has all of the elements of going out to sea, except that you are driving your automobile 50 miles an hour when you lose sight of land.

Pilate and Jesus' enemies thought they were getting something over with. In only a day or two the excitement would blow over. Every year, in this troubled world, there are insurrectionists, would-be kings, seeking power. They flash in the sky like meteors and quickly burn themselves out into nothingness. Jesus, on the contrary, has increased: His kingdom is without

TV PROGRAMS TO COMBINE FUN, FACTS

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — Entertainment can be informing—and information can be entertaining. Look at some of the offerings on the television networks Sunday (all times Eastern Standard):

Psychoanalysts are forever interviewing people, so it should be informative—and entertaining—to hear an outstanding analyst, Dr. Karl Menninger, being the subject of an interview for a change: On "Wisdom" over NBC Sunday at 2 p.m.

At 2:30 on CBS Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts and Arthur Larson, former aide to President Eisenhower, are among those debating the question of "Can Democracy Meet the Space Age Challenge?"

Changing its time for this Sunday only, "Meet the Press" interviews poet Robert Frost at 4:30 on NBC. At the same hour on CBS Leonard Bernstein and the New York Philharmonic will demonstrate how composers through the ages have employed wit and satire in their works.

On "Small World" at 6 over CBS Edward R. Murrow leads Noel Coward, James Thurber and actress Siobhan McKenna into a discussion of wit and humor in the theater today. At the same hour on NBC "The Bell Telephone Science Series" repeats "The Unchained Goddess," showing how scientists study, analyze and forecast the weather.

ATLAS FALLS SHORT AND DROPS IN SEA

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force fired a "new look" Atlas missile from Cape Canaveral Wednesday night but it developed trouble and fell far short of the planned intercontinental-range flight.

All indications were that the failure headed off an intended effort to recover the new model nose cone intact after its red hot re-entry into the atmosphere from the fringes of space.

The Air Force said Thursday that the huge missile, carrying the same type nose cone that would house a deadly thermonuclear warhead in combat, developed "propulsion and control" problems. It dropped into the Atlantic about 700 miles from the launching pad on the Florida east coast.

4,500-Mile Goal

The shoot was intended to send the Atlas about 4,500 miles in a further test of the capability of its nose cone to withstand re-entry heat.

The Air Force gave no hint of the cause for the apparent failure.

School Salvages WW II Weapons

KOKUM, Guadalcanal (AP) — Former instruments of war now are serving peaceful purposes at two Seventh-day Adventist schools in the Solomon Islands.

Student inkwells at the school at Kukudu, Kolombangara, are made from World War II shell casings. Lighting systems include wire salvaged from jungle battlefields.

Buildings at Betikama Missionary School, near war-famed Henderson Field on Guadalcanal, used to be military barracks and its cafeteria uses ex-GI mess utensils.

COIN COLLECTOR

GAZA, Egypt (AP) — One of the rarest coins in Dr. James M. Young's collection came from an odd source.

It's a Saudi Arabian issue which the 33-year-old medical chief of the Baptist Hospital extracted from the stomach of an Arab boy who had swallowed it a week before.

MY HERO WAS A HEEL
By James Jeffrey
Fort Worth, Texas

Every boy has his hero. Mine was a crashing football player at Baylor University by the name of Rupert Wright, a blond 6-foot-5-inch giant, at 250 pounds. A real man's man.

When I got my uniform at the start of my sophomore football season, I ran as fast as I could to get the locker next to Rupert, who was then a senior. P. e. r. s. o. n. a. l. h. a. p. s. . . I thought, some of his ability and personality will rub off on me.

Rupert was always a lot of fun; he had a great sense of humor. And I knew he was secretly pleased to have me back in his light. But I soon had to face some unpleasant facts.

Rupert, charming as he was, was also one of the most vulgar, selfish and deceitful fellows I have ever known. But all this didn't bother me too much until I had a life-changing Christian experience during a campus evangelistic crusade.

No. 1 Project

From that moment Rupert lost his position as my Number One Hero and became, instead, my Number One Project.

I guess what bothered me most about Rupert was his language. He had the filthiest tongue of any fellow I ever knew.

One day, after practice, Rupert and I were dressing in the locker room alone. I drew a deep breath and said, "Rupert, I don't want you to think I'm trying to be holier than thou, but just let me ask you this: What would you do if someone were to cuss your mother?"

Rupert looked at me for a moment. "I'd thump his head off."

"Rupert," I said, "I know exactly how you feel, so you must know how I feel when you—the person I look up to so much—curses my God. Who means as much to me as your mother means to you?"

But He Forgot

Rupert looked at me, surprised. Then he said, "Jeff, I don't mean it. I just say it. Okay, no more."

Five minutes later he had forgotten all about his promise.

"Just keep loving him, Jeff," my friends would say when I asked for advice. "You may not reach Rupert, but God can reach him through you."

And so it went through the winter and well into the spring. Rupert always having a wild time, getting by in classes any way he could. Month after month passed, and I didn't see the slight-

STOMACH GAS May Tax HEART

A Gettysburg man once feared he had heart trouble; gas in his stomach formed pressure, causing "gassy catches" that hurt with each deep breath; so check with your doctor if worried about your heart. It's gas, remember: SYS-TONE is helping victims of stomach gas all over Gettysburg. Taken with meals Sys-Tone works WITH YOUR FOOD. Expels gas quickly! Contains iron to enrich pale, anemic blood; also vitamin B-1 for upset nerves. Many gas-filled nervous, worried people soon feel like new. So don't go on suffering. Get Sys-Tone—Peoples Drug Store. Also sold by all drug stores in Gettysburg and nearby towns.

SLASH SPACE CANDIDATES TO 3 DOZENS

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The field of 110 airmen selected as potential U.S. space explorers has been narrowed to three dozen. From the 36, a dozen are being chosen through further physical and psychological examinations. From the 12 will come the nation's first space pilot, for Project Mercury. He will ride a rocket nose cone into space and back again.

To Be Secret

Who the men are is to remain a secret. In Washington, Dr. T. Keith Glennan, the nation's civilian space chief, has explained, "The final selections are a private privileged matter between the examining aero-medical specialists and the volunteers."

The 110 were selected, in the first place, several weeks ago according to requirements established by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's special advisory committee on life sciences.

That group is headed by Dr. W. Randolph Lovelace II, and part of the screening of the 36 has been undertaken at the Lovelace Foundation in Albuquerque.

HOME COURT IS BIG ADVANTAGE FOR LOUISVILLE

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The home court advantage is expected to do more for Louisville than Oscar Robertson for Cincinnati, Jerry West for West Virginia, or a bear-hug defense for California in the NCAA basketball showdown opening at massive Freedom Hall tonight.

Louisville (19-10) meets West Virginia (28-4) in the semifinal opener at 8:30 p.m., followed by Cincinnati (25-3) vs. California (23-4) at 10:30.

The winners play for college basketball's tastiest plumb Saturday at 10 p.m., following a consolation game between tonight's losers. Capacity crowds of about 18,500 will attend each session.

Despite the general feeling among the coaching fraternity that the home court assist will be minimized by tournament pressure, the odds-makers have made the homestanding Cardinals the favorite.

Has Poorest Record

This although Louisville has the poorest record of the semifinalists, has no one to match All-Americans Robertson and West, and has a defense that's hit-and-miss compared to California's "make-em-for-everything" style.

All four teams were in top shape after final workouts with only Cincinnati due to play short-handed. Mike Mendenhall, regular backcourt man, is ineligible for the NCAA competition as a four-year player.

This didn't stop George Smith's Bearcats from spilling top-ranked Kansas State 85-75 in the Midwest regional final at Lawrence, Kan., last weekend. Cincinnati, champion of the Missouri Valley Conference, scored its other Lawrence victory over TCU 77-73.

Louisville, which lost seven of its first 12 games, created the biggest stir when, after bouncing Eastern Kentucky in the first

HYPNOTIC DRUG MAY BE CAUSE OF BOY'S DEATH

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP) — A toxicologist's report today may determine whether a University of Redlands biochemistry student died from the effects of a hypnotic drug last Tuesday.

Michael Hawks, 18, died shortly after he was found in a coma amid test tubes and vials in his dormitory room. Chemicals discovered in the room were identified tentatively as mushroom crystals, mescaline and lysergic acid, all of which produce hallucinations.

"Very Curious"

Young Hawks was described by relatives as "very curious about the effect of mushrooms on people, and interested in dreaming in color." Although he was a freshman, he was so advanced in chemistry he was enrolled in third year classes.

Deputy Coroner Edward Doyle has confiscated a tape recording on which Hawks appeared to describe eerie dreams. Chief of Police Stanley Bowen said it has been established that the young man conducted experiments with drugs on at least five university students.

Bowen said investigators found a notebook with entries by Hawks which, coupled with conversation on the tape recording, indicated one of his subjects had experienced hallucinations for a period of more than six hours.

Had Been Warned

Police said other tape recordings contained a philosophical dissertation on colors, believed to have been recorded by Hawks, and a recital of reactions to hypnotic mushroom potions.

A university spokesman said Hawks was warned in January to discontinue his experiments. Mushrooms which cause visions have been known to man since the dawn of history. Mexican Indians use six varieties to heighten the ecstasy of religious ceremonies.

WINTER DEALS ANOTHER SLAP; SPRING NEARS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Winter prepared for its exit today and its parting salute was a mixture of snow, gusty winds and cold from the Rockies into northern Midwest areas.

But, with spring due officially at 3:55 a.m. EST Saturday, the weather was in seasonal form in most areas in the eastern half of the country—fairly mild temperatures and showers in some sections. It was a little cool in the far Northwest and warm in the far Southwest.

Rain In Florida

More rains kept the sun under cover in much of Florida, the so-called "sunshine state." It was the sixth straight day of wet weather in many areas. Forecasters didn't see much hope of dry weather before Saturday. The rains have disrupted major league baseball exhibition games and other sports events. Floods have forced several families from homes in low lying areas.

Heavy snow warnings were posted for Nebraska, Iowa, Wisconsin, Minnesota, South Dakota, northwestern Illinois and north central Kansas.

Strong winds fanned a stream of cold air through the West, spreading snow and rain showers over the mountain states. More than three inches of snow fell at both Lander and Cheyenne, Wyo., and more than two inches dampened Denver.

FINEST DRAMA OF CURRENT TV SEASON HAILED

By CHARLES MERCER
NEW YORK (AP)—"For Whom the Bell Tolls," which "Playhouse 90" presented in two parts ending Thursday night on CBS-TV, was the finest drama of the current television season.

A. E. Hotchner's faithful dramatization of Ernest Hemingway's novel about a group of loyalist guerrillas in the Spanish civil war was brilliantly played by an outstanding cast under the imaginative direction of John Frankenheimer. Producer Fred Coe, deserves the gratitude of everyone interested in better TV drama.

Despite the handicap of appearing in two installments and being interrupted by too many strident commercials, seldom have actors developed their roles more compellingly and creatively on television than did the cast assembled for Hemingway's story of human bondage under imminent death.

Great Performance

Jason Robards Jr. and Maria Schell gave tremendous performances as they movingly portrayed a passionate love affair that ended in inevitable tragedy. As the indomitable pillar, who refused to shun responsibility, Maureen Stapleton was magnificent. Eli Wallach as the irresponsible gypsy Rafael was equally fine.

One of the most memorable performances was that of Nehemiah Persoff as Pablo, the guerrilla leader who wavered between courage and cowardice.

Should Be Repeated

In the early part of the first episode, the literal-minded man have been troubled by the phrasing with which Hemingway suggested the Spanish language. As the drama progressed, however, the dignity of language underscored the beauty of the work.

The final battle scene of the taped production was infused with a clarity and authenticity rarely achieved in the medium.

There was nothing dated about "For Whom the Bell Tolls." It made a powerful dramatic statement of man's hope and man's fate in the universal terms of love and war, courage and cowardice.

This production should be presented again on CBS without commercials or a break of seven days.

Hunterstown

Cub Pack 124 will hold its regular pack meeting this evening at the chapel. Dervin Wileman, Cubmaster, will preside. The March theme is Canada. The boys will have a snowshoe contest, using shoes, they have made.

The Boy Scouts will have a roller skating party this evening at Forest Park, Hanover.

A committee from the Presbyterian Church met Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dervin Wileman to plan for the fried chicken supper to be served at the church Saturday, April 11.

Performances was that of Nehemiah Persoff as Pablo, the guerrilla leader who wavered between courage and cowardice.

SCHOOLHOUSE TO BE BURNED AS EXPERIMENT

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Fire! The school's on fire!

A cry to rip at a town's heart, to bring hysteria and heartbreak. Next month an old school building—a regular fire trap—will go up in flames while firemen stand by and watch. They'll put the torch to it themselves.

What happens then could save your child's life.

Planned Fire
This will be one school fire that was planned ahead of time. Flames will roar up drafty open stairways, through transoms. They'll lick through wooden floors in a three-story school considered a potential death trap—a school a lot like those still filling with youngsters five days a week in some places.

Fire experts from over the nation will be watching the unusual experiment. It was born after Chicago's tragic school fire last Dec. 1 killed 94 persons, mostly children.

To Cut Guess Work
The test building, Robert Louis Stevenson Junior High School, was abandoned because of foundation flaws. It is more than 30 years old.

"Operation school fire," starts April 11. At least 14 separate fires, sealed off from one another, are planned.

Fire officials feel it will take much of the guess work out of school safety precautions.

LOOK FOR STOLEN HOUSE

CROYDON, England (AP)—The Croydon cops are looking for a two-bedroom house and the four strong men who stole it.

The aluminum, prefabricated model was on exhibit at a local housing development. The quartet of workmen skillfully took it apart, stowed it in a big truck and drove away. The contractor's only consolation was that the thieves left the brick foundation.

Beer Cans Among Her Souvenirs

FULTON, Mo. (AP)—A faculty raiding party searching for liquor in a dormitory at William Woods College found a suitcase filled with empty beer cans in a woman student's room.

A boy's name was written in nail polish on each of 24 cans.

College officials said the student explained that the cans were mementos of various dates. On each date, she collected a beer can, painted her date's name on it and filed it away.

HE SILENCES ROCK 'N ROLL

RIPLEY, Tenn. (AP)—A business man who doesn't like rock 'n' roll music bought 15 minutes of radio time Thursday and devoted almost all of it to silence. James W. Porter began his quarter-hour on station WTRB by shattering several records and then proposing a "National Can the Racket League." Announced Porter:

"Friends, are you tense, nervous, jittery? Chances are you are overworked. You may have tried other stations without success, but now we offer you an amazing new discovery—instant silence."

Thirteen minutes of silence followed except for two breaks to reassure listeners their radios didn't need repair.

John Stewart, WTRB manager, said telephone callers were 10 per cent against the silence.

RE-ELECT CONFAIR

BROOKVILLE, Pa. (AP)—State Sen. Z. H. Confair, Lycoming County Republican from Williamsport, has been re-elected president of the Keystone Shortway Assn.

All other officers were re-elected Thursday at a Board meeting following groundbreaking ceremonies for the Sharon - to - Stroudsburg expressway.

They include regional vice president Martin D. Cohn of Hazleton, J. Allen Heim of Montours-

MAY BE SIX MONTHS UNTIL BONUS IS PAID

HARRISBURG (AP)—A spokesman for the State Military Affairs Department today estimated it could take six months to set up machinery for payment of a 150-million-dollar bonus to Pennsylvania's Korean War veterans.

Col. William B. Freeland, deputy adjutant general, said the department has been deluged with inquiries even though the General Assembly must still send the bonus legislation to Gov. Lawrence's desk.

"We're getting thousands of letters from all over the world," Freeland told The Associated Press. "When the applications (for payments) are available, wide publication will be given to all mediums advising veterans."

Time For Supplies
Freeland estimated that four to six months would be needed to secure supplies and to set up printing of "about a million applications."

He added this phase of preparatory work would begin after the state borrows money for the payments.

A Treasury Department spokesman estimated that about 60 days would be needed to borrow the money after the governor signs enabling legislation.

Senate To Approve

A bill boosting the cigarette tax five cents a pack to six cents passed the House Thursday and is now in the Senate. Quick approval is expected after the Legislature returns March 31 from an Easter recess.

The legislation is designed to raise 25 million dollars every two years to finance the bonus. It is hoped that payments to some 330,000 Korean veterans can start by year's end.

Freeland said that temporary employees would have to be hired and new quarters established to handle the added work load created by the bonus payments.

He noted that about 600 employees were hired to handle the World War II veterans' bonus but that fewer will be needed for the Korean bonus.

Guy Mitchell In Fight Over Bill

VAS NUYS, Calif. (AP)—Singer Guy Mitchell and a lumber company owner agree they had a fight but they're at odds on who started it.

Abe Berman testified at a hearing Thursday that Mitchell owes him $233 for lumber used in building a den. His left eye was blackened, he said, and he suffered injuries to his hands, arms, stomach and back.

Mitchell said he owes Berman no money but that when he rode by him on horseback Wednesday Berman made a slurring remark and threw a couple of punches at him.

Drunk Customer Takes Over Bar

DETROIT (AP)—A customer at an East Side bar became angry when he was refused service because he was drunk.

The man drew a gun and took $79 from the till and six patrons. Then he ordered the waitress to give him a beer and drinks for the house. She did.

WILL DECIDE CLASS A RACE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—North of Pittsburgh goes after its fifth state Catholic Class A high school basketball crown tonight against Central of Allentown, the only team to win five CIAA titles.

Leading defending champion North at the Pitt Field House (8 p.m.) will be 17-year-old Matt Szykowny, one of the finest athletes ever to come out of Pittsburgh.

The blond senior will be climaxed by a brilliant three-year career during which he starred in basketball, as a football quarterback and a baseball pitcher.

Class B Saturday

Szykowny helped North compile a 20-2 season record, including a 16-game winning string, by scoring more than 24 points a game, grabbing an average of 18.3 rebounds and turning in 138 assists, 92 more than his closest teammate.

Central comes here with a 20-6 record against some of the best teams in the east. It has a well-balanced squad, including such sharpshooters as Francis Demko, Ed Pfeiffer and Tom Marsden.

The PCIAA Class B championship night will be decided Saturday night at Boyertown between St. George of Pittsburgh and St. Pius of Pottstown.

METHODIST-CATHOLICS

CHICAGO (AP)—The number of Roman Catholics who become Methodists is almost four times greater than the number of Methodists who become Roman Catholics, Dr. Albert C. Hoover, director of Methodist statistics, claims in a recent report in the church's "Together" magazine.

Ed Pfeiffer and Tom Marsden.

The PCIAA Class B championship night will be decided Saturday night at Boyertown between St. George of Pittsburgh and St. Pius of Pottstown.

WORK IN SPACE BUT HAVEN'T LICKED COLD

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Here's a woman's-eye view of what is wrong with the world, written behind a barricade of pill bottles, tissues and cough medicine.

Scientists should stop trying to conquer outer space until they succeed in conquering the common cold.

In this age of modern miracles, why hasn't some genius come up with a miracle cold pill? This, I am sure, would be of far more benefit to suffering humanity than a moon satellite.

Still Sneezing
We have push-button kitchens, no-iron clothes, jet airplanes and guided missiles, yet half the world's population is still sneezing.

My outlook may be slightly jaundiced on account of having been unduly exposed for the last few days to a steady barrage of television commercials running something like this:
"At the first sneeze, take miracle sniffle-eeze."
"For all cold ills, take our jet-propelled pills."
"Chase cold germs away the modern way."
"Cold miseries stop with super-charged glop."

Grandma Knew Best
The cold, hard facts are that even in the current space age, atomic scientists and hard-working housewives may still be dem-
